Still a Big Puzzle—

Middle East Situation Seen As Help to GOP in Missouri

JEFFERSON CITY — What effect will the war in the Middle East have on the Missouri election next Tuesday?

Before the Israeli army moved into Egyptian territory, all reports indicated that Lt. Gov. James T. Blair, Jr., would sweep the state by a big majority and would have an edge in the presidential voting.

Stevenson lost the state to Eisenhower by 29,600 votes four years ago. This time his backers claimed there had been enough of a switch to reverse the result.

They said the Seventh District of Southwestern Missouri alone would be enough to make the difference. Eisenhower amassed a tremendous 56,000 vote majority there in 1952 and even his Republican backers claimed no more than 25,000 to 30,000 majority in that area this year.

But the whole situation changed overnight when the Middle East crisis flared into open warfare. Come next Tuesday, and how will the change be reflected in the Missouri voting? Will the Democrats benefit? Or the Republicans?

In the first quick check of the politicians themselves, most of them saw the Middle East developments as helpful to the Republicans.

W. F. Daniels, the Democratic state chairman, had put out his pre-election forecast that Stevenson would carry the state by about 75,000 and Blair would win by 175,000 or more in a Democratic landslide. The estimate was made before the Suez Canal war broke into open hostilities and he stuck with it.

Jack Stapleton, Blair's campaign manager, said the reports to Democratic state headquarters were so favorable he saw no reason to change the pre-election estimates.

Richard M. Webster of Carthage, the Republican nominee for lieutenant governor, had a different version. He said that

Altogether, Now—

Keep your fingers crossed. The weatherman says there's a chance of more rain Friday.

Partly cloudy tonight; considerable cloudiness Friday; little change in temperature; low tonight near 55; high Friday near 75.

The temperature at 7 a. m. was 51; 67 at 1 p. m. and 69 at 2 p. m. Low Wednesday night 50.

The temperature one year ago today, high 71, low 44; two years ago, high 45, low 36; and three years ago, high 65, low 35.

within recent weeks he had become convinced the Republicans had a chance to carry their state ticket and he thought Eisenhower would carry Missouri again.

Webster reported that in the beginning of the campaign, crowds at political meetings were small. But in the last few weeks, he said, the turnout had increased amazingly.

In the little town of Cuba in Crawford County, population 1,301 in the 1950 census, Webster said 700 persons were interested enough to come to a Republican rally the other night.

And how about the polls? Webster said he was impressed by the fact that all the high school and college polls he had seen were heavily Republican. And he thought that reflected the views of the parents, the voting members of the families.

Of course, it's standard procedure for the politicians of both parties to express great confidence before an election. But it's no secret that they are sometimes as surprised as anyone at the way the voters react.

No one knew in 1946 when the Republicans won and everyone was surprised in 1948 when the Democrats won.

Right now the big puzzle is what the Missouri voters are going to do next Tuesday.

Hungary Announces It Leaves Warsaw Pact

VIENNA — Premier Imre Nagy of Hungary called in the Soviet ambassador today and gave notice that Hungary was withdrawing from the Warsaw Pact, Radio Budapest announced.

Nagy also told the Soviet ambassador that Hungary intends to pursue a neutral course in the future and protested the entrance of new Soviet troops into the country, the broadcast said. Nagy said the government had received reliable reports of the new Russian forces. The ambassador, Radio Free Budapest said, promised to forward the protest and ask for an immediate answer from Moscow.

Nagy informed all diplomatic missions in Budapest that Hungary was calling upon the United Nations for the protection of Hungarian neutrality.

Russian tanks and infantry had apparently been withdrawn from the capital to their bases. But there were reports that the Russians had thrown a cordon about the capital, some 10 miles outside. Vengeance squads of young revolutionaries still prowled the streets of Budapest and the city's sewers, hunting members of the hated Hungarian Communist secret police.

When they found them in the sewers, they shot them and dumped their bodies. When they found them in the streets, they hung them up by the feet. When they shot them in the streets, they poured gasoline on their bodies and burned them.

Despite repeated pleas of the Communist-dominated government of Premier Imre Nagy, nobody was back at work in the factories. There was no public transport. Nearly everything was still at a standstill.

Resentment mounted in Budapest against the Nagy regime.

British and French Continue Raids As General Assembly Is Convening

UN Security Council Votes 7-2 for Emergency Session

Bulletin

LONDON — Prime Minister Eden, under heavy attack from the Labor opposition, today called the British-French attack on Egypt "a police action."

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — The U. N. General Assembly was called into emergency session today to decide what to do about military attacks by Britain, France and Israel on Egypt.

The U. N. Security Council voted 7-2 last night to summon the Assembly after Britain and France launched air and naval operations against Egypt with the announced aim of occupying the Suez Canal zone and halting the Israeli-Egyptian fighting.

Less than 24 hours earlier Britain and France had vetoed U. S. and Soviet resolutions in the council for a cease-fire in Egypt and withdrawal of Israeli troops.

Under the resolution introduced by Yugoslavia, the special session of the 76-nation Assembly will consider recommendations to U. N. members for collective measures, including "the use of armed force when necessary."

Less drastic steps could include a condemnation of Britain, France and Israel, a cease-fire call, or a request that U. N. members punish the three with diplomatic and economic measures.

Britain and France voted against the resolution to convene the Assembly, contending it was illegal. Australia and Belgium abstained. The United States and the Soviet Union were among those casting favorable votes, further emphasizing the grave split in the Western alliance.

The emergency session is the first ever called under the Assembly's so-called "uniting for peace" resolution of Nov. 3, 1950.

Ike Meets With Council On Mid East

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower met for two hours today with National Security Council, expanded to include military and civil chiefs of the armed services, in a full-dress review of the Middle East crisis.

The session of the nation's top strategy board opened at the White House at 9 a. m. and broke up just before 11.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty, in announcing the end of the meeting, said he had no statement to make.

The Security Council never divulges its deliberations.

Eisenhower ruled out last night the use of American armed forces in the present situation brought about by the Israeli attack on Egypt and British-French intervention.

But the Security Council — the Egyptian Warship Is Sunk In Suez Canal, Blocking It

Bulletin

PARIS — French and British aircraft carriers moved toward the Suez Canal today, from both north and south, a French Defense Ministry communique said.

LONDON — British and French planes carried on nonstop attacks on Egyptian airfields today and Cairo announced attacking aircraft sank an Egyptian warship in the Suez Canal — blocking traffic and cutting off oil shipping to Europe.

Cairo said British and French warplanes raided Egyptian troops at crossing points along the canal and in the operation sank the Egyptian warship Akka in Timsa Lake just south of Ismailia, midway point of the canal.

Britain and France launched military operations against President Nasser's regime last night with the declared purpose of protecting the Mideast waterway from fighting swirling between Egyptian and Israeli forces in the Sinai Desert.

The Egyptians gave out no official information today on the fighting with Israeli troops. But the Israelis claimed Egyptian troops were in retreat and would soon be cut off in the Sinai Peninsula.

Even before Egypt announced blocking of the canal, shipping was reported turning back from its approaches because of danger from military operations.

Egypt asked other Arab states to block another source for Middle East oil—the pipelines from the main production centers to Mediterranean ports.

Egypt broke off diplomatic relations with Britain and France. Jordan broke relations with France.

Cairo dispatches said five air raid alarms sounded in Cairo up to early afternoon, and Egyptian

Police Report Quiet Night For Halloween

Hallowe'en was observed in one of the most orderly ways Sedalia has seen in many years, even better than 1954 and 1955 when those were considered the best, according to Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors. Property damage and soaping was held to a minimum.

Chief Neighbors in reviewing the night's activity said, "Things went just fine, and we want the boys and girls of Sedalia and those adults too who do take part in such affairs to know we appreciate to no end their cooperation. It was just about the best."

The Chief pointed out the good things that happened, but said, "there are always those few in the minority who have to cause trouble, damage other people's property and make a nuisance of themselves, who mar a 100-percent perfect night. But those persons are in a great minority and don't reflect against the grand cooperation we have from the majority."

There were more than 20 Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion, auxiliary police on duty riding in private cars and teaming up with the regular police who were on duty. Chief Neighbors expressed his thanks to the Legion for their assistance during the night tour of duty.

Reports from the various police teams were, the "roaming gangs" as were experienced in years gone by were small and especially the vandalism type. However, police received numerous calls, some turned out to be "duds".

Among the calls police received over Hallowe'en were:

To 623 West Pettis where vandals were reported to have thrown some kerosene soaked rags on the front porch. Mrs. Mabel Fisher, the owner, told police she kicked them from the porch before they set fire to the house. Time of the call was 6:57 p. m.

At Sixth and Quincy where children had stretched a clothes line across the street. Removed by the police at 7:39 p. m.

A U. S. Mail box at 1400 South Carr was moved around at 9:30 p. m. auxiliary police replaced the mail box.

At 11 p. m. police were called to 1310 East Fourth, where boys were reported turning over a small out building and tearing down a fence.

Boys were reported at 11:19 p. m. going north on Osage from Pettis throwing rocks at street lights.

Charles Adams, 418 North Montau, reported at 11:47 p. m. (Please turn to page 6, column 7)

Won't Condone Attack on Egypt—

Stevenson Finally Turns to His Preferred Issue, But Direction Remains Uncertain

By JOSEPH A. DEAR
Democrat-Capital Correspondent

With the Stevenson Campaign, Nov. 1—Foreign policy, the preferred issue of the Democratic candidate has finally become the issue of his campaign. He's charging that the "bankrupt" Ike-Dulles foreign policy spawned the Middle East mess which threatens the United States and the whole world with war.

He's chiding Ike for following a policy that's put us in bed with the Commie bosses of Russia and which has split us from our traditional allies, Britain and France.

He notes that Russia supported our proposal in the United Nations for a peaceful solution to the Middle East crisis, and that Britain and France killed it with a veto.

But as of yesterday, Stevenson hadn't decided in which direction to move. Though he condemned the administration for its failures, he did not give unqualified endorsement of the attack on Egypt by the British, French, and Israelis.

At the Manhattan Center in New York, where his campaign was all but drowned in a day-long cloudburst, Stevenson said: "Surely the United States can never condone unprovoked attack by any nation on another but let's not be too quick in judging whether there has been provocation, or what Israel has done, or what the British and French are doing." (They were bombing Cairo about that time.)

Stevenson said we didn't know much, but we did know that British and French had commitments to preserve peace in the area, as we do. He noted we have denied arms to Israel though her "hostile neighbors" were being armed by Russia.

Every consideration of law, and of moral and spiritual obligation he said, binds us to support the integrity of Israel.

But before Stevenson spoke, and he spoke four times in New York City, he was preceded by prominent Democrats—Senator Lehman, Gov. Harriman, and Mayor Wagner. They came down on the side of Israel without qualification.

True Morse Is Visitor To Sedalia

On short notice that True D. Morse, Under Secretary of Agriculture, would be a Sedalia visitor Wednesday, over 100 leading Sedalia and Pettis County Republicans responded to a luncheon meeting in the Pacific Room of the Pacific Cafe.

Seated at the head table with Morse was his former University of Missouri roommate, Browne Y. Edelen, 1711 West Tenth St., and Rotary President Del Heckart another personal friend. Morse is well known in Sedalia having visited here frequently. His wife is the former Mary Louise Hopkins, niece of Mrs. J. C. Saunders, 1001 South Missouri.

Attorney Don S. Lamm introduced Secretary Morse who is also president of the Commodity Credit Corporation, who on Tuesday evening was the recipient of the Citation of Merit presented by the University of Missouri Alumni Association at the annual banquet of the Association of Agricultural Alumni in Memorial Student Union, Columbia.

In his talk before the Sedalia group Secretary Morse reviewed accomplishments of the Eisenhower administration, its building of a foundation of security and expansion of prosperity. He called attention particularly to new records of production and peak levels of consumption; the program to aid especially the low income farm families started in 1955; progress in soil and water conservation; the surplus problem being brought under control; and the prediction of a solid future for Agriculture under Republican administration.

Fog Hampers Deer Hunters But Large Numbers Continue

JEFFERSON CITY — A heavy blanket of fog hampered deer hunters in parts of Missouri today but the State Conservation Commission said it didn't seem to discourage the sportsmen.

Hunting pressure stayed heavy as the five-day gun season moved into its third day. Reports from Rolla and Warrenton indicated the hunters were staying close to the roads but there seemed to be just as many of them as on the first two days.

When the second day kill was added up last night, 1,765 deer had been bagged in the 63 open counties. That brought the two-day total to 3,665, an increase of 480 over the first two days of the 1955 season.

Three more gun accidents were reported.

James E. Doyle, 19, of Tunas was shot by his hunting companion whose gun fired while he was crossing a fence.

Ira Collins of Independence suffered a leg wound while unloading his gun near Willow Springs.

And Roy Adams of Doniphan was nicked in the ear when another hunter's bullet caromed off a tree.

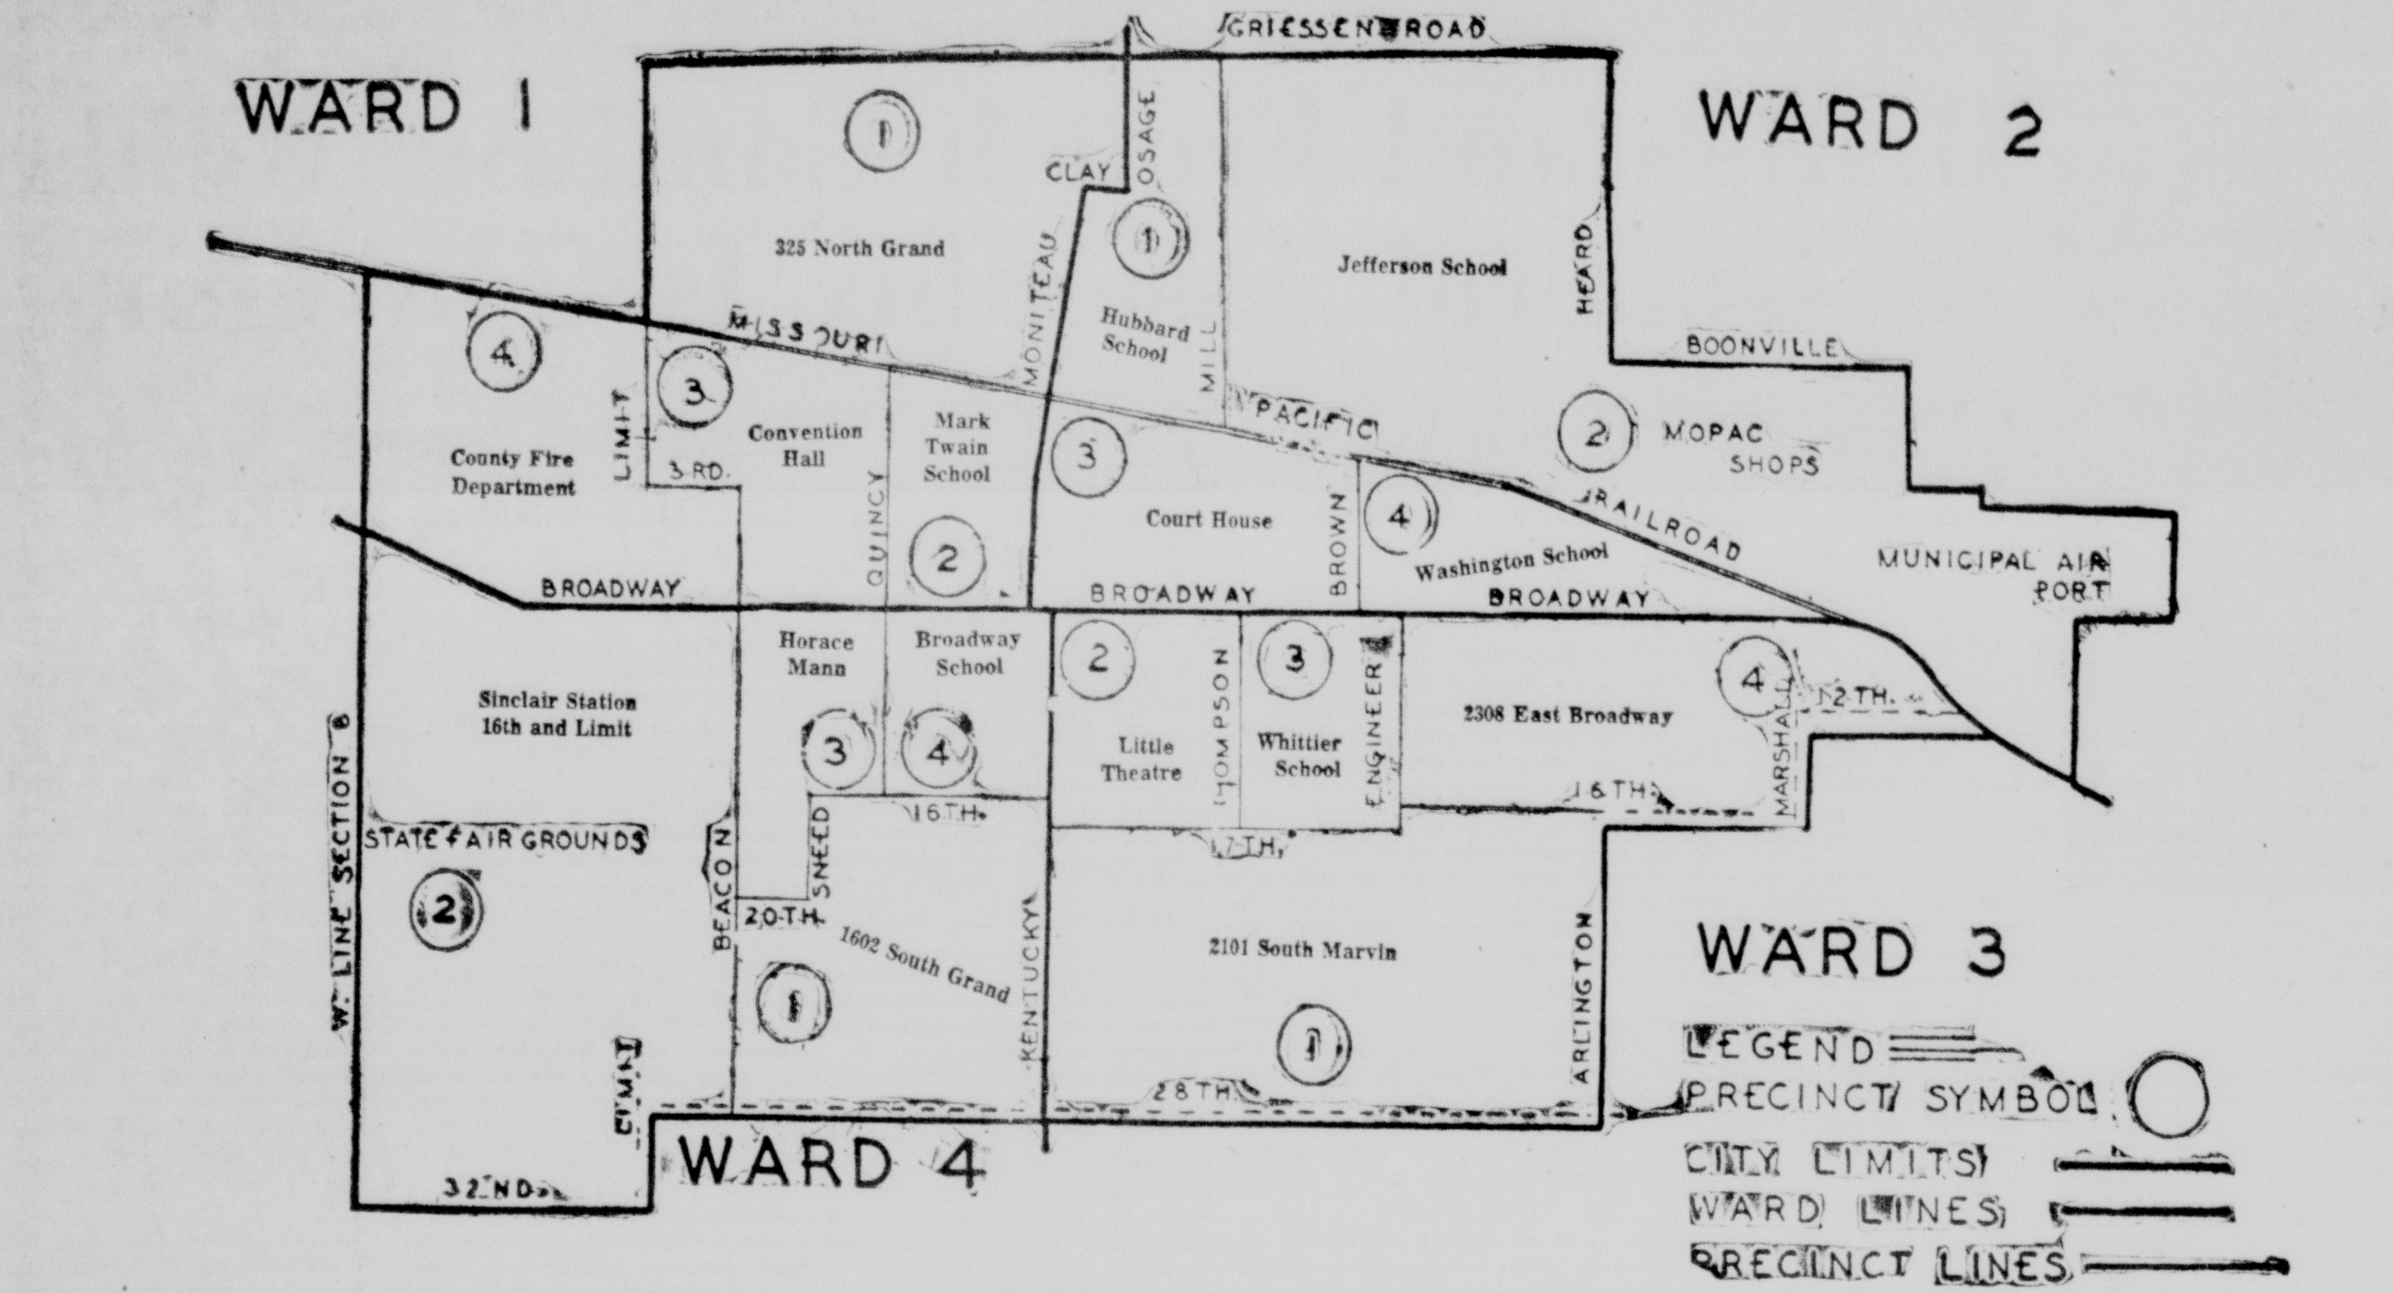

The deer archery season ended last night with 31 kills reported. This was six less than the bow and arrow hunters took last year.

Sedalian Is Assigned To Greenland

Airman First Class Doyle R. Brown has been assigned to duty at Thule Air Base, Greenland, the northernmost air base in the world. He will serve with the 74th Fighter Interceptor Squadron, the only fighter squadron north of the Arctic Circle. This air base, only 750 miles from the North Pole, is located 2,500 miles from Moscow, yet 3,000 from New York. It is named from the Greek word meaning "end of the earth." During the summer months the midnight sun shines here 24 hours a day, while in the winter there are three months of total darkness.

As a jet aircraft weapons specialist, Airman Brown will be a key man in the operation of the F89D "Scorpion" all-weather jet interceptors based here. Maintaining the rocket armament of these jet fighters, he will be responsible for keeping these jet fighters ready to "scramble" at a moment's notice out over the frozen Arctic oceans to identify unknown aircraft as friend or foe. His work will have to be accomplished this winter in temperatures as low as 40 degrees below zero and despite such handicaps as the total darkness and the icy winds that come howling off Greenland's ice cap at speeds in excess of 100 miles an hour.

The 74th was originally the famous "Flying Tiger" squadron of General Claire Chennault which fought so valiantly in China during World War II. It has since come from the steaming jungles of the Orient to the frozen wasteland of the Arctic, and its present, equally vital mission: the defense of the northern air approaches to the United States on a 24-hour a day basis. Airman Brown is the husband of Mrs. Doyle R. Brown, Route 2, Sedalia. He was last stationed at Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., before his assignment to Thule.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former Rep. Ernest K. Bramblett (R-Calif.) was sued yesterday in U.S. court for $71,724 for padding his payrolls during his tenure in the House. The remainder asked was for damages. Bramblett was accused specifically of setting up a dummy staff of four clerks and collecting money for their salaries. He was given a one-year suspended sentence and fined $5,000.

Party of Mobility Program--

WAFB Group Helps Families While Men Are Overseas

One of the hardest working committees in the dependents assistance program at Whiteman Air Force Base is the temporary duty (TDY) committee.

Because overseas assignments for Strategic Air Command tactical units is a vital part of SAC's global mobility operation and gives deploying units invaluable simulated combat experience by flying in various parts of the world under many different climatic conditions, the "TDY" committee goes into action during an extended temporary duty assignment in order to make the airman's wives as comfortable and as free from inconvenience as possible in their husband's absence.

Mrs. Pauline Hufstodler has been selected as the TDY committee chairman and is a graduate of the SAC orientation and training course for dependents. Mrs. Hufstodler worked on the TDY committee at Barksdale AFB, Louisiana, before coming to Whiteman in April, 1955. She and her committee work under the supervision of 1-Lt. James Newsum, dependents assistance officer.

The TDY chairman divides her committee into various groups in surrounding communities such as Sedalia, Warrensburg, Windsor, LaMonte and Knob Noster, and personally supervises their efforts to maintain direct contact with each wife whose husband is TDY.

The committee members put in many hours of volunteer work during a TDY period. The work includes such services as providing emergency transportation, baby sitting, counseling and many other services to help solve problems that might arise during the husband's absence away from home.

In addition to keeping in touch with the families while the husbands are overseas or on a short TDY in the United States, the committee notifies the dependents of their husbands' expected arrival time whenever it is possible to do so. In this event the committee is on 24-hour call until the husbands have all returned to their home station.

The Dependents Assistance Center at Whiteman also keeps in constant contact throughout the TDY period with the wives who visit relatives or friends during their husband's absence. Their problems receive the same immediate and thorough attention as those of dependents living near the base.

Most of the volunteer workers on the dependents assistance committee are seasoned to service life and enjoy helping others who are relatively new to SAC. The dependents assistance slogan is, "We care for our own."

The defense sub-system developed by Emerson is virtually automatic and capable of accomplishing its work with a minimum of supervision from the crew, Persons said. Its first flight is scheduled for next week.

The amount of the contract and other details are not cleared as yet, Persons said.

Milton Jones Tells of Sky Watch Need

With the news as it is at present in Israel and Arabia something could happen before we realized it, Milton Jones told members of the Optimist Club Tuesday noon at Bothwell Hotel, in his talk on the Ground Observer Corps.

The Observer Corps, he said, was patterned after the Observer Corps of England during World War II. The Chinese had a similar type, and the United States had one, too, but fortunately didn't need it.

Twenty-eight states now have sky watch 24 hours a day, Jones said, and he stressed the fact that there is a need for every citizen to help. There is no pay except the fact that the ground observer is doing not only a national duty but a service to his own community in protecting it from a surprise attack.

People, Jones said, are always asking about the protection of radar. Radar, he pointed out, is not effective under 5,000 feet of altitude. For real protection around the clock, sky watch is needed. The local observer post is located on top of the courthouse.

Jones said it is the little planes that are to be watched. A small plane could slip through unnoticed and drop a bomb that would destroy the entire community. Not only that, one could be dropped, he said, on Whiteman Air Force Base or even Kansas City that would bring deadly radioactive fallout here in a very short time.

The type of plane need not be reported, he said, just the fact that there is a plane seen. This is immediately reported to the filter center at St. Joseph, and the direction the plane is going. It is then put on the plotting board at St. Joseph, and relayed to Grandview. The telephone is owned and operated by the United States government and that call, when the code is given, has priority over all other calls.

The meeting was presided over by Dr. C. H. Blaich, president, with invocation by Frank Armstrong. Program chairman was Frank Mehl. The singing was led by Charles Hanna with Miss Lillian Fox at the piano.

C. A. Phillips was introduced as a guest.

US Scientists Win 1956 Nobel Prize For Tiny Transistor

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—The 1956 Nobel Prize in physics was awarded to three U.S. scientists today for their development of the tiny transistor.

The winners, who did their work in the laboratories of the Bell Telephone Co., are William Shockley of Pasadena, Calif.; Jay Bardeen of Urbana, Ill.; and Walter H. Brattain of Murray Hill, N. J. The $38,633 physics award — to be split three ways among the winners — recognized the swift advance of science and technology into the vast new field of physics of the solid states.

It was known that the transistor team had been figuring high among the Nobel physics prize candidates for several years. They had long ago been declared prize-worthy by Nobel committee experts.

Knife, Fork Club Subject: Anthropology

A comprehensive talk on the science of man in relation to his historical and physical background was given by Dr. Ethel J. Alpenfels, outstanding authority on human relations, anthropologist and author, before the Sedalia Knife and Fork Club meeting in Bothwell Hotel Wednesday evening.

The speaker ran the gamut of what makes man tick — heredity, environment, personal experience — based on studies of homo sapiens from earliest anthropological research until the present time in a clock-orientated nation. Touching on modern family life, Dr. Alpenfels noted that man must find a way to build character in youth by teaching old and tested character-building truths again in church, home and school.

Pinkney Miller introduced the speaker.

C. F. Scotten, president, presided. Mrs. Lily Thomas gave the invocation.

Guests were: Mrs. George T. McCurdy, Windham, Conn., with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hanley; Mrs. Caroline Williams, Kansas City, with her cousin, Mr. Scotten, and Mrs. Scotten; and Mrs. Joseph Joffe, Yellowstone National Park, with Mrs. Freida Nelson.

Mrs. P. W. Henry was introduced as a new member by Mr. Scotten, who announced that the next dinner meeting would be held, Saturday, Dec. 1. The speaker will be Capt. Jose Guzman Baldivieso, whose subject will be: "Americans All: North, Central, South."

Egypt

military headquarters claimed six British planes were shot down over the Nile Delta.

Troops of the two Western nations had not showed up in the area of operations, but their landing on Egyptian soil was expected.

British planes with cannon and rocket fire were reported in official announcements here and at Cyprus, their base, to be striking hard at five Egyptian airfields in the Suez zone and Nile Delta in an effort to destroy Nasser's Soviet-built MIG airforces on the ground.

British pilots said they had destroyed 14 Egyptian planes on the ground, including Soviet MIG15 fighters. The pilots said they had encountered almost no resistance.

It was limited, they said, to ineffective anti-aircraft fire and a lone fighter which attempted to intervene.

The air strikes, beginning at dawn after a night of British and French bombing attacks, were aimed at the airfields of Abu Sueir, Fayid and Kabrit in the Canal Zone, Ikhass, 35 miles from Cairo, and Kasfareet.

The reported sinking of the Egyptian warship in the canal, followed the British announcement that another Egyptian warship had been sunk in the Red Sea off Suez, at the southern approaches to the canal. An admiralty spokesman said the Egyptian frigate Domiat went down under the guns of the British cruiser Newfoundland.

"The Domiat was carrying mines with the apparent intention of laying them in the area," said the admiralty announcement. It added 69 survivors from the Domiat had been picked up by British ships.

Without benefit of falsehood she began ringing doorbells herself, but instead of asking for Halloween handouts she insisted the homeowners take some of her own neat Halloween sacks. If they refused, she threatened to soap their windows.

She got rid of all the sacks and didn't have to soap a single pane.

Halloween Excursion Ends in Death of Four

BRUSSELS, Wis. (AP)—Four children, out on a "trick or treat" Halloween excursion last night, were struck and killed by an auto and three others were injured as they crossed a highway in Door County.

The dead were Jane Rass, 9; her brother, Neil, 11; Steven Jandrin, 7, and Monica Miller, 8, all of Brussels, a tiny community in northeastern Wisconsin.

Hospitalized at Algoma Memorial Hospital are Denise Jandrin, 10; Roger Miller Jr., 6; and Marcia Miller, 8. Hospital authorities said their condition was not critical.

Three other youngsters in the group escaped injury.

Italian Vets Pay Homage to Leader

GRAZZANO BADOLIO, Italy (AP)—Thousands of Italian war veterans assembled in this north Italian village to pay homage to Marshal Pietro Badoglio, 85, their wartime leader, who died early today.

The old soldier, who rode in triumph into Addis Ababa in 1936 and who was chosen by the late King Vittorio Emanuele III to replace the dictator Mussolini in 1943, had long been retired from public life.

Iowa's Head Coach Resigns After Effigy Is Found on Campus

AMES, Iowa (AP)—Vince Di Francesca, head football coach at Iowa State College, resigned today a few hours after an effigy of him was found hanging from a tree in the center of the campus.

Di Francesca's teams have won only two games in the past two seasons and his overall record since coming to Iowa State three years ago is 5 victories, 18 losses and one tie.

In announcing his resignation, the coach said "I am making this move because I never want to lose my enthusiasm about football and winning." He is 34 years old.

Di Francesca said he hadn't even heard about the effigy incident. He came to Iowa State from Western Illinois State at Macomb, Ill., where he had a record of 38 wins, 7 defeats and 1 tie.

Jeff City Woman Goes to Residents With Candy Supply

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—A Jefferson City housewife, Mrs. Richard Everding, prepared more than 50 sacks of Halloween goodies for the onslaught of trick-or-treaters last night.

By mid-evening only five little spooks had come from the night to claim their rightful loot—so Mrs. Everding took matters into her own hands.

Without benefit of falsehood she began ringing doorbells herself, but instead of asking for Halloween handouts she insisted the homeowners take some of her own neat Halloween sacks. If they refused, she threatened to soap their windows.

She got rid of all the sacks and didn't have to soap a single pane.

October Is Third Warmest in History

KANSAS CITY (AP)—October was the third warmest month in the history of the weather bureau here.

The average temperature for the month was 66.1, 6.5 degrees above normal. Only two Octobers since 1889 were warmer, the one in 1947 with an average of 68 degrees and 1938 with 66.4 degrees.

Only 75 of an inch of rain fell during the month, but there have been seven Octobers which were drier. The moisture deficiency for the year now is 9.50 inches.

Moisture Appears Headed for Missouri

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Some moisture appears headed for Missouri, but the amount and extent must await developments.

A cold front extends this morning from central Nebraska to the Oklahoma Panhandle. It is a slow moving affair and the Weather Bureau expects there may be scattered showers over northwest and extreme western Missouri by Friday night.

There will be little change in temperatures Friday except it is expected to turn colder in the extreme northwest by late Friday afternoon.

Rolla reported .99 of an inch of rain in the past 24 hours. Farmington had .30. Nearly every station reported at least a trace of moisture.

Eisenhower

country's top strategic planning agency — has responsibilities reaching far outside the purely military into coordination of diplomatic and economic action.

Thus its apparent task was to plan how to gear U.S. activities generally to the major pledges made by Eisenhower last night in his special radio-TV report to the nation:

1. To rely first on the United Nations for a solution to "this tormenting problem."

2. To do all within the United States' own power "to localize the fighting and to end the conflict."

One matter certain to come in for major attention at the Security Council session was American strategy in the U.N. General Assembly, called into special session today for an effort to end the fighting.

"In the past," Eisenhower said last night, "the United Nations has proved able to find a way to end bloodshed. We believe it can and will do so again."

He set up no specific plans for this country's individual actions.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U. S. ambassador to the United Nations who frequently attends Security Council meetings, stayed in New York City for the Assembly session. Vice President Nixon, who seldom misses a council meeting, was absent.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters yesterday, in response to questions, that the Council session today would be a full-dress review of the Middle East crisis. It got under way, with Eisenhower presiding, shortly after 9 a. m.

Eisenhower said the U.N. General Assembly should be able to bring the "opinion of the world" to bear on the Middle East situation.

He chided Britain, France and Israel but added that all had been provoked by Egyptian actions.

He said he has no plan to call a special session of Congress. But promised to maintain close contact with congressional leaders.

A few hours before Eisenhower spoke, the State Department banned travel by U. S. citizens into Egypt, Israel, Jordan and Syria except where a trip is determined to be in this country's "best interests."

The department announced also that 1,888 Americans had been evacuated from the same four countries by late yesterday afternoon, and that by its count 4,878 Americans remained. It said the Air Force and units of the 6th Fleet are aiding in the evacuation.

AFL-CIO Will Hold Rally On TV Circuit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The AFL-CIO arranged a 28-city rally linked by a closed television circuit tonight to whip up voting support among workers for Democratic presidential nominee Adlai E. Stevenson.

AFL-CIO President George Meany and the political chiefs of the 15-million-member labor organization, James McDevitt and Jack Kroll, were listed among the speakers.

The hourlong TV show, which also will feature entertainers from Hollywood and New York, is designed to key up union leaders to get out the maximum worker vote next Tuesday—preferably for the Stevenson-Kefauver ticket and other labor-favored candidates.

The program, costing more than $30,000 which AFL-CIO unions provided from members' dues, climaxes a quiet but determined and costly political drive by organized labor, mainly in behalf of Democrats but also for a few Republicans.

Officials of the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE), headed by McDevitt and Kroll, declined to detail expenditures. But from all accounts the total political spending from all union sources will exceed two million dollars and may approach three million.

COPE officials acknowledged they are spending a record sum for any election, more than the AFL and CIO did together before their merger.

In some areas union support is divided, especially in major states where separate AFL and CIO state organizations have not yet merged.

In Illinois, for example, the CIO is supporting Democrat Richard Austin over Gov. William Stratton while top AFL officials have endorsed Stratton for re-election.

Generally speaking, the AFL-CIO and the independent railroad and mine workers unions are favoring Democrats in congressional races. The AFL-CIO's COPE refuses to put out an over-all list of congressional endorsements but says it supports about 25 Republican House candidates, none in the Senate.

For the presidency, the AFL-CIO has formally endorsed Stevenson but a few influential union leaders have endorsed President Eisenhower.

Professors Get Chemistry Award

STOCKHOLM (AP)—A Russian and an Englishman won the 1956 Nobel Prize in chemistry jointly today for discovering the rules of conduct when molecules blow up in chain reactions or combine smoothly.

Their work laid the foundation for the development of plastics and was a factor in later atomic research.

The winner of the first Nobel award ever given to a Soviet citizen is Nikolai N. Semenov, bearded 60-year-old Moscow professor of physical chemistry and the organizer of much of Russia's chemical science.

Sharing the $38,633 award is Sir Cyril Hinshelwood, 59, of Oxford University. He and Semenov worked independently, but have been friends and correspondents for some 25 years.

The prize will be presented to them by King Gustaf VI Adolf of Sweden at the colorful Nobel ceremony in Stockholm Dec. 10. The King also will present the prize for literature to Juan Ramon Jimenez, Spanish poet now living in Puerto Rico, and for medicine to Dr. Andre F. Courmand and Dr. Dickinson W. Richards Jr. of New York's Columbia University and Dr. Werner Forssmann of Bad Kreuznach, West Germany.

Prison Escapee Is Arrested For Second Time

DENVER (AP)—Rex McCullough, who escaped from the Missouri Prison farm 12 years ago and has been living in Denver under another name, won a round in court yesterday but still is in jail.

McCullough sought his freedom in district court on a contention police did not have a proper warrant when they arrested him Oct. 21.

Judge Joseph M. McDonald set a further hearing for Nov. 28 and ruled McCullough could go free on $1,500 bond.

McCullough couldn't supply the bond immediately and officers arrested him again outside the courtroom, on a new warrant from Missouri.

He was using the name Chester Alan French when arrested after an auto accident. He was charged with several traffic offenses, including drunken driving. His fingerprints were sent to the FBI in Washington as routine.

The FBI last Saturday advised authorities he was not French, but McCullough, a fugitive from Missouri.

McCullough, who is 47, acknowledged he was serving a life sentence in Missouri for an attempted break from the Cass County jail in 1931. He was being held at the time for investigation of a burglary.

After walking away from the prison farm near Jefferson City, he came to Denver, French, a friend in Denver, died in a hospital here about the same time. McCullough assumed his name and social security number.

Third Quarter Report Shows Profit Drop

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—A disappointing third quarter for many companies has pulled high soaring profits down for the first nine months of the year. They are now even with last year for American business taken as a whole.

This is still a very high level. But it breaks the stream of year-by-year gains which had characterized corporate earnings since 1962.

This is the indication today from a survey of the first 502 corporations to report net profits after taxes for the first nine months of this year trail those of the same period in 1955 by 0.5 per cent. This is only a preliminary report. Hundreds more will make public their earnings statements in the weeks ahead and the final figure could be different.

The combined drop so far shows up despite record earnings reported by many companies and despite the fact that two out of three of the 502 corporations show increases over last year's figures.

The declining third, however—especially those in the auto, steel, farm equipment industries and individual giants in the chemical, electronics and aircraft fields—took a deep enough plunge to outweigh the gainers.

But many of those who reported smaller profits this time declare that the final months of this year look so good for their business that much of the drop will be erased.

The steel strike last summer gets much of the blame for poor third-quarter figures which pulled down the gains made in the first of the year. Steel companies, railroads serving them and some of steel's customers suffered.

The auto industry has had its own sales troubles, but hopes they're over now.

Declining farm incomes show up in the profit and loss statements of the farm equipment makers and also in those of chemical companies making fertilizers. Building material firms suffered from the decline in home building.

But for many corporations the story was simply this: operating costs—labor and materials—have been rising faster than sales volume or prices for their finished products.

On the other side of the picture there are glowing reports from many of the oil companies, coal companies and nonferrous mining companies—although with the last report is far from unanimous.

Good gains are reported by the following groups: shipping, retail, drugs, rail equipment, business machines, machine tools and machinery. Also stepping ahead of last year are these groups: oil equipment, rubber, cement, electrical equipment, appliances, food, tobacco, airlines and utilities.

The Truth about Arthritis and Rheumatism

A message for every sufferer from the pains of arthritis, rheumatism, neuritis, sciatica, lumbago and bursitis who is tired of trying drug after drug without getting real relief and who has just about given up hope. The following exciting message was recently broadcast on the radio and is reproduced here for the benefit of the many sufferers who failed to hear it.

FROM A RADIO TALK BY RALPH DURAGIN

Friends, may I have a moment of your time to talk to you about your arthritis, rheumatism, sciatica or lumbago. The next few moments may change your life entirely and effectively relieve your suffering . . . so please listen carefully. Do you ever suffer with arthritis pains around your joints? Do you ever have rheumatic pains in your legs? Does arthritis cause you pain every time you move? Let me go on. Do stabbing pains of bursitis afflict your neck, shoulders, or arms? Do the excruciating pains of sciatica and lumbago attack the small of your back and legs? Have you ever noticed swelling or stiffness around your joints or muscles? Do your nerves carry nagging pain through your body day after day, week after week without relief? Friends, if you suffer from these painful symptoms of arthritis, rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago and bursitis, don't make the terrible mistake of neglecting your body. These pains are a warning from your body that you need scientific treatment right now. Please believe me. If your pains are causing you misery, it means that something is seriously wrong where the pain hurts you. You don't have to be a medical expert to understand this fact. Ask your doctor. You have about five miles of nerve fibers in your body and when inflammation or spasm strikes your joints or muscles, these nerves perform the vital job of warning your brain of the danger, and you feel pain. Your brain localizes the pain in the diseased areas and increases the flow of healing blood. The flow of blood, however, is partially blocked by the spasm and swelling. This blockage sets up a vicious cycle of increased spasm and swelling, more severe pain, and increased blockage of your blood. You know that your blood is the greatest "healing agent" known. But when your precious blood cannot circulate freely, you cannot get relief of pain. This vicious cycle makes matters worse and worse and you continue to feel the painful symptoms mentioned before. And now the question is—what can you do about it? How are you going to break this vicious cycle, relieve the pain, quiet the spasms, reduce inflammation, and help unblock the flow of your healing blood? I realize that many of you have tried different remedies and you've been disappointed in the results. You're discouraged. You may even have given up any hope of relief of pain. Well, I have a wonderful and exciting message for you. I can now guarantee to relieve your pain and suffering—not in months—or even weeks—but often the very first day! Now, I know this is hard for you to believe. You're wondering if there truly can be a remarkable medicine that can do this when everything else has failed. But stop and ask yourself. Modern medical science has announced many revolutionary new discoveries for some of mankind's most deadly diseases. And now, at last, after years of continuous, patient, brilliant research—after hundreds of tests in hospitals and clinics on two amazing new drugs, a remarkable new safe combination of these two drugs is finally available to you. It is called "MERICIN." But please do not confuse "MERICIN" with any product you may have ever tried before. By actual supervised clinical tests, the wonderful ingredients in this new formula have proved to be amazingly fast-acting and safer than any other medicines you may have tried. The remarkable ingredients in "MERICIN" will help bring you definite relief from your painful suffering often within 24 hours. Notice—I did not say may relieve. In fact, I guarantee that it won't cost you a penny if you don't experience definite relief of pain. Friends, not only that—as your pain fades, the spasms and inflammation in and around your muscles and joints are reduced, and your precious healing blood can flow more freely, bringing you peaceful, long-sought relief of pain. So if you are suffering from the pain and agony of arthritis, rheumatism, neuritis, sciatica, bursitis, neuralgia, or lumbago—for the sake of your own health, try this new, scientific discovery. Don't take chances with your health, and above all, don't miss getting the truly amazing relief I've mentioned because other products failed you. This brand new, just released, carefully tested, safe formula succeeds where other medication has failed. In case after case, when "MERICIN" was given, pain, swelling, redness, stiffness, and heat were reduced—and without any of the harmful effects so frequently noticed with continued use of cortisone, aspirin, and other salicylates. Here are summaries of actual case histories:

WOMAN, 59, suffering from osteo-arthritis unable to continue with other drugs showed marked improvement after use with "MERICIN."

MAN, 41, inflammation and stiffness with rheumatoid arthritis. Remarkable improvement after taking twelve "MERICIN" tablets.

MAN, 25, suffering from rheumatoid arthritis for 1½ years. Unable to tolerate salicylates. "MERICIN" reduced pain and inflammation within 24 hours.

If you are suffering from the pain or stiffness of arthritis, rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, or bursitis, you owe it to yourself to try "MERICIN." Take advantage now of "MERICIN's" generous, NO-RISK, trial offer, today.

Dick Resumes Pennsylvania Campaigning

EN ROUTE WITH NIXON — Vice President Nixon returned to Pennsylvania today for two days of intensive campaigning, most of it by train, in a final bid for the 32 electoral votes of this key state.

Democrats are claiming Pennsylvania for Adlai Stevenson, but Republicans dispute this. Nixon hopes to tip the scales with a dozen speeches. He also plans to plug hard for Sen. James Duff (R-Pa.), who is in a tough fight for re-election with former Mayor Joseph Clark of Philadelphia.

The vice president boarded his special train in New York City last night after one of his most strenuous days on the road — a 24-hour period during which he flew from coast to coast and made five speeches in two of the nation's greatest industrial centers.

In Detroit he assailed Stevenson for injecting the Near East crisis into the campaign, and also sought to win over voters of Polish extraction and other minorities with the assertion that re-election of President Eisenhower is the way to keep steam behind the movement for liberation of Russian satellites.

In New York's Harlem last night he told a predominantly Negro crowd that only the Republicans could follow through on civil rights pledges, because, he said, the Democrats were deadlocked on the issue with Southerners holding the upper hand in Congress through seniority.

The men then decided to run through the women's residence halls. Some of them turned it into a panty raid, emerging from the buildings waving their trophies.

Tigers, Raytown To Clash Friday

S-C Seeks to Snap Strong Jay Team's Win Skein in Tilt There

The Smith-Cotton Tigers travel to Raytown Friday where they meet the Raytown High School Blue Jays, the strongest team the Tigers have had to face this season. Although this is a non-conference tilt the locals will be endeavoring to smash the outstanding record the Blue Jays have made this season.

By VIC VAN DYNE

Out of the seven games played the opponents have won six and lost one, that being to the Southeast Hi of Kansas City. However, they bounced back after this game to trounce their following opponents, among them being Joplin, Springfield, De LaSalle CYC, William Chrisman, Rockhurst, and defeated Northeast of K.G. in their opener.

Sedalia players, who have been plagued with fumbles through the season, tightened up against Jefferson City the past week and did a good job of ball handling the greater part of the game despite a couple of bobbles.

Coach Ralph "Stub" Dow and his assistants, Howard Glavin and Bob Edmondson, have been working hard with the team over the past few days getting them sharpened up for the game Friday. The reports on practice sessions seem to point to a tough battle for the Tigers.

On the ailing list this week are Dick Sklar, who is suffering from a shoulder injury and probably will be used briefly if at all in this game. B. C. Poynter, who suffered a cracked wrist, will also see limited action against the Jays.

Coach Dow has not definitely decided upon his starting lineup but it probably will consist of Gates and Shepherd on the ends; Hall and McDowell, tackles; Fairfax and Boehm, guards; Vernon Means, center; and a backfield composed of Murray at quarterback, Bryan and Newman, halfbacks, and Jim Goodrich, fullback.

The team will depart early in the day for Raytown to have time for a rest before game time.

Stae Conservation Group to Interview Applicants for Job

BRANSON, Mo. (AP)—The Missouri Conservation Commission will hold a meeting in Jefferson City Nov. 26-27 to interview applicants for the position as director of the commission.

Commission chairman Joe M. Roberts said applicants for the directorship should contact Miss Helen Cooper, commission secretary, at Jefferson City.

Miceli Wins Decision In 10-Round Bout With Stocky Newcomer

CHICAGO (AP)—Truck driver Carlo Sarlo's debut as a main event welterweight was anything but sensational.

But his stampeding tactics were. In fact, the Chicago welterweight displayed such bull-like rushes last night that at times it looked as if the red-wrapped ring ropes at Chicago Stadium were attracting him.

Joe Miceli, 10th ranking 145-pounder from New York and a veteran of 94 fights, went through the motions of a matador waving his cape in a bull ring from the fifth round on and carved out a 10-round unanimous decision.

Sarlo, a stocky newcomer to the national television audience, had more heart than talent and his charges at Miceli appeared like off-tackle smashes of a fullback. Sarlo, with a weight edge of 143 pounds to 146½, once shook Miceli with a steaming left hook. The only thing wrong with it was that it came after the bell ended the fourth round.

Obscene Literature Reported in Drop

CINCINNATI (AP)—H. Joseph Houlihan of Lexington, Ky., president of the American Booksellers' Assn., says smut, obscenity and sex are not the easy road to fortune in fiction writing that they were for some years.

Houlihan, speaking at a meeting of his association, said: "I think the demand for dirty literature is leveling off and, in fact, the public is showing some signs of revulsion against the stuff."

Bride and Bridegroom Spend Night in Jail

CINCINNATI (AP)—Dillard Bowling, 28, and his bride Ruby, 43, spent their wedding night in jail on a charge of disorderly conduct. The Bowlings told Judge Daniel C. Handley they got to drinking during the wedding celebration and wound up in a sidewalk argument.

"It's a little early for you to start fighting so here's a wedding present," Judge Handley said. "Costs remitted."

Three-way Deadlock Exists--

Hottest Competition Centers At Oklahoma Sooners' Home

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Hottest competition for All-America recognition from the midlands, as in the last ten years, centers at Norman, Okla., home of the University of Oklahoma Sooners.

A check with the Associated Press regional nominating board of writers and broadcasters discloses Sooners Tommy McDonald, Jerry Tubbs and Clendon Thomas are almost in a deadlock for All-America honors now that the football season is half gone.

McDonald, the 168-pound fireball senior halfback from Albuquerque, N. M., a first string All-America last season, is given a slim edge over Tubbs, 205-pound senior center from Breckenridge, Tex., and Thomas, a 190-pound junior halfback from Oklahoma City.

Colorado's John Bayuk, 223-pound senior fullback from Salida, Colo., also figures prominently in the regional all-star picture and will have a chance to prove his merit Saturday when his Buffaloes play Oklahoma in Boulder.

Bayuk has been the Big Seven's busiest back this season, carrying the ball 73 times for a 6.2 yard average.

The Sooners-Buffalo game will show at least two other strong candidates for top honors. Bill Krisher, 210-pound junior guard of the nation's No. 1 team is strongly recommended by the board. So is Jerry Leahy, 206-pound senior end at Colorado.

Other linemen drawing mention of the board for their work in games of last Saturday included: Vandiver Childs, Oklahoma A & M guard; Carl Osterloh, center, Don Chadwick, guard, Missouri; Frank Black, center, Bill Bell, end, Kansas; John Wooten, Colorado guard; Jim Murphy, Nebraska guard; Jim Wood, Oklahoma A & M end; Dick Stapp, Colorado tackle.

The board tabbed the other outstanding backs last week as Bob Marshall, Kansas sophomore whose 99-yard punt return brought the Jayhawks a come-from-behind victory over Oklahoma A & M; Bob Stransky, Colorado; Jerry Brown, Nebraska; Charlie James, Jimmy Hunter, Missouri; Billy Pricer, Oklahoma; Bobby Robinson, Kansas; Larry Rundle, Oklahoma A & M; and George Cagliola, Tulsa's great 175-pound sophomore.

Kent Hughes, trying to keep separate his role as a member of the Australian House of Representatives and chairman of the organizing committee, decided not to go to Canberra today to hear Prime Minister Menzies' report on the Middle East situation.

Both told The Associated Press they think the games will go on as scheduled.

But there is a feeling among Olympic officials that the IOC might ask Great Britain, France and Israel to withdraw their teams. Traditionally countries at war do not take part in the Olympic games although Otto Mayer, chancellor of the IOC, said in Lausanne, Switzerland, there is no Olympic rule against it.

Coach Price Quits Under Alumni Fire

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Ed Price, who resigned as coach under fire of the alumni, set out today to pick up the pieces of what could be the worst football season in University of Texas history.

Price brought an end to a turbulent period, during which he was thrice hanged in effigy, when he quit with a year to go on his $12,500 contract but with the provision that he would finish the current season.

Price declared yesterday that he was resigning because "it is unfair to the team for us to have a house divided."

Saturday the Board of Regents will meet here and delegate to the Athletic Council the duty of selecting another coach and athletic director. Athletic Director D. X. Bible will retire to "modified service" in September, 1957.

Price had a good overall record for the six years he has been coach but it was compiled the first three seasons during which he won one championship and tied for one. In 1954, his team lost 5 tied 1 and won 4 after being named the heaviest favorite in conference history. Disciplinary trouble figured in the poor season.

Last year the team split even and managed to evade serious rumblings of discontent by making a fine finish and winning the final game on the schedule—with arch-rival Texas A&M.

This season the Longhorns have won only one game out of six and took a 45-0 walloping from Oklahoma. Only in one season did Texas ever win just one game. That was in 1938 in a 9-game schedule. This year 10 games will be played.

Marty Marion to Talk With Greenberg About Indian Manager Job

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Marty Marion, now a strong candidate for the Cleveland Indians managership with Leo Durocher out of the picture, says he is awaiting a visit from Hank Greenberg, Cleveland general manager.

The 39-year-old former St. Louis Cardinal shortstop, who recently resigned as Chicago White Sox manager, said Greenberg told him Friday he would confer with him in St. Louis this week. He didn't pinpoint the time.

"I haven't made up my mind yet," Marion said when asked if he was available for the job. "I don't want to comment on the situation until I've talked to Greenberg."

Al Lopez resigned as Cleveland manager and was signed by the White Sox for Marion's former position.

Gun Hunters Kill 30 Deer In Knob Area

A total of 30 deer were reported killed in the area around Knob Noster State Park Wednesday, bringing the two-day total to 103 for the five-day season. The kill included 12 bucks and 18 does.

The largest trophy of the day, a 162-pound buck, was killed by John Graves of Knob Noster.

Two women registered their quotas for the day, Mrs. Edith Adams of Knob Noster with a 133-pound buck, and Gertrude Edin-cott, Kearney, Mo., who downed a 65-pound doe.

Those from this area who got deer kills Wednesday included: Herman Perry, Knob Noster, 130-pound doe; Jess Adams, Knob Noster, 135-pound doe; Curtis Judd, Knob Noster, 62-pound doe; Harold Charles, Houstonia, 38-pound doe; J. C. Tuckwiller, Houstonia, 56-pound buck; Robert Knight, Houstonia, 92-pound doe; and Leroy Malone, Windsor, 64-pound doe.

In Tuesday's kills, 12-year-old Basil Quick of Knob Noster became the youngest hunter to score with a 132-pound buck.

Two hunting violators, John Hirst of Blue Springs, Mo., and Carl E. Goggins of Independence, were charged with hunting in the Knob Noster Park game refuge Tuesday. They were each fined $25 in Magistrate Court in Warrensburg after pleading guilty to the charges. The arrest was made by Jack Frost, Conservation agent of Warrensburg.

Persistence Wins Award For Gehring

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Persistent Perry Gehring of Minnesota all most ran out of positions but never ran out of patience. His reward today was selection as the Associated Press lineman of the week.

Gehring's smashing end play was credited with contributing vitally to the unbeaten Gophers' 20-7 upset of Michigan last Saturday.

It was a major milestone for the Yankton, S.D. native who spent his first season at Minnesota last year walking a treadmill that went from fullback to center to guard but never to the varsity.

He saw no action at all in 1955. But Coach Murray Warmath told his aides: "There's just got to be a place for a boy who wants to play football as badly as this one does."

By the time the season opened this fall he was up to the second team. Steady, aggressive performances since then climaxed in the biggest day of Gehring's college career at Ann Arbor Saturday.

He caught an important pass in the first stages of the Gopher comeback from a 7-0 Michigan lead and later delivered several big tackles when the Wolverines were trying to counter Minnesota's second half outburst. Offensively he was stronger than ever.

And two days ago Warmath made Gehring's success story complete by promoting him to the first team.

Although he is a junior scholastically, the 5-11, 190-pounder has two more years of competition remaining after this one.

AAU Track, Field Meet Goes to Dayton

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The National AAU track and field championships for 1957 have been awarded to Dayton, Ohio, after a discussion in which the segregation issue was raised.

Dayton won out over Corpus Christi, Tex., when delegates raised the possibility that Negroes competing in the meet might experience difficulties in finding living quarters in the Texas town.

Other than that dispute, matters went smoothly yesterday as the convention fixed the sites of various AAU championships.

Still to be voted upon before the convention winds up tomorrow are recommendations to hike expense accounts for athletes and a move to tighten control by the AAU over athletic meet sponsors.

Win Would Salvage Wounds--

Underdog Kansas Wildcats Hope Rivalries Breed Upsets

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas State Wildcats are hopeful intra-state rivalries breed upsets.

A decided underdog for its traditional football game with Kansas, a victory for K-State would salvage many wounds inflicted in a season that has produced only one decision in six starts.

The Wildcats turned the trick last year 46-0 and on the Jayhawks home grounds. It was the largest margin ever run up by K-State in the strongly-contested 33-game series.

The Big Seven Conference also has two other interesting league games this weekend.

Missouri, a preseason favorite to finish behind Oklahoma and earn an Orange Bowl trip, will attempt to nail down its third straight league decision in a game with Nebraska at Lincoln.

The Sooners, who can't make the Miami trip two years running, are favored to continue rewriting

Utah's Hill Leads Field In Offense

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Football teams west of the Mississippi seem to have cornered the market on offensive stars with one of the brightest a speedy halfback from Utah State.

Led by Jack Hill, who has amassed 90 points for the individual scoring leadership in the nation, Western teams captured the top two positions in three offensive departments, NCAA service bureau statistics showed today.

Hill has accumulated his total on 13 touchdowns and 12 extra points to lead his nearest competitor by 20 points. Wyoming's Jim Crawford is runnerup on 10 TDs and a like number of one-pointers.

In the pass receiving department, Washington State's Bill Steiger heads a host of West Coast ends, Steiger has latched onto 26 tosses for two touchdowns and 376 yards. Runnerup is Paul Camera of Stanford's Rose Bowl bound squad.

UCLA's Kirk Wilson is the punt leader, averaging 45.5 yards.

Back of Hill and Crawford in individual scoring are two of the nation's outstanding All America backfield candidates, Clendon Thomas of Oklahoma and Syracuse's Jimmy Brown.

Thomas has made all his points on 10 TDs, and Brown has 51 points on seven scores and nine extra points. Thomas' Sooner teammate, Tommy McDonald, is seventh with 48 points.

Missouri's Charley James moved into the top ten passing group.

James in six games has caught 18 passes for 218 yards and three touchdowns to rank No. 6.

Among the punters, J. Wood of Oklahoma A&M ranks fourth with a 44.2 yard average on 15 attempts.

Hayward Has Left Acting For Producing

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Now it's Susan Hayward, girl producer.
The redhead from Brooklyn is the latest to join the producers' ranks, but she's frank enough to admit that it's in name only. "I couldn't handle the business details," she said. "I can't even count to 10."
She'll hire talent to handle the business end. The reason for becoming a producer? Money, of course. Until now, she has always been under contract to producers, working for a flat salary. "I'll Cry Tomorrow" may have helped her see the light on getting a percentage of the take.
Susan hears that the Lillian Roth biography has grossed between 12 and 14 million, making it MGM's third biggest moneymaker after

"Gone With the Wind" and "Quo Vadis."
Right now she's happy to be making a comedy — "Top Secret Affair" with Kirk Douglas. "At least I think it's a comedy," she said. "We're doing it in pieces and you can't be sure."
She is negotiating to buy a property for her own company. One project she won't do: the Helen Morgan biography. She had been mentioned for it.
"I turned that down long ago," she said. "Helen Morgan didn't have one tenth the problems that Lillian Roth did, and I've played her."
Producers all over the place! In a nearby dressing room was Kirk Douglas, returned from a lunch-hour conference with his business associates. He reported a healthy profit on his first production effort. "The Indian Fighter." And he has high hopes for unreleased films, "Spring Reunion" with Betty Hutton and Dana Andrews, and "Lizzie" with Eleanor Parker.

Next he makes "King Kelly" and in the summer he'll produce "The Viking," to be made in Scandinavia for three million dollars. I asked him if he ever thought he would be spending such millions when he was a waiter in New York. "No, and I don't want to think about it now!" he replied.

Teen-ager Blames School for Speeding

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—It was all the high school's fault, a teenage girl told City Judge James Demopolos as she answered a charge of driving her father's car 70 miles an hour within the city limits.
She told the judge she could not get served in the 30-minute lunch period at the school cafeteria so she ate at a restaurant three miles away. She said she was hurrying a little to get back before the lunch hour was over.
Real Stick Up
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A real stick-up was reported to police by Mrs. Marie Powers, 30. She said a man approached her in a downtown parking lot, threatened her with a stick, and fled when she gave him $10.

Traffic Signal Runs Into Man's Auto

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—A Salt Lake motorist was just minding his business when a traffic signal ran into his car.
Denton Lee Dunn, 42, pulled up to an intersection where workmen were cutting a tree.
Workmen motioned Dunn to make a left turn to avoid the tree, which was being felled. Dunn turned, the tree began falling, a gust of wind blew the tree into a utility pole, which supported the signal light, which in turn came crashing down on the hood of Dunn's car, into the windshield and bounced over the back.

Estes Charges GOP Policy Caused Crisis

BOSTON (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver charged today that "the Eisenhower - Dulles foreign policy has brought us to the brink of war for the fifth time in four years."
The vice-presidential candidate stormed into New England, hammering at the latest Democratic campaign theme — that administration policies are largely responsible for Middle East fighting and what he termed the breakdown of understandings with Britain and France.
Kefauver's talk, prepared for a rally at Boston University, was part of a back-breaking schedule of 10 speeches in Massachusetts and Rhode Island, two news conferences and several informal handshaking sessions.
"Our so-called foreign policies are utterly bankrupt," he said, and added:
"This is the third time in ten days that the Eisenhower administration has been caught short in an international crisis."
He said "there was no American ambassador in either the Polish or Hungarian capitals when the revolt broke out. We had no idea it was coming."
Earlier crises, he said, were over a possible renewal of Korean fighting, Indochina, the Formosa Strait and a previous peak of tension over Suez.
He said the Suez crisis "has struck another body blow at NATO" and that if the trend continues "we may return to isolationism a la Herbert Hoover, simply because none of our past allies and friends will trust us."
He said "NATO seems to be in tatters" and added, "As goes NATO, so goes SEATO (Southeast Asia Treaty Organization) and the other alliances upon which our national security rests."
Kefauver opened up last night at Bay City, Mich., on the Middle Eastern policies pursued by President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles.
He said Eisenhower's television and radio report on foreign affairs "revealed for all the world to see the deterioration of American influence in the world."
He said the United States, once the leader of the free world, now finds itself without friends, its "counsel disdained," and is "left standing flatfooted and open mouthed while world events pass us by."
John L. Sullivan was heavyweight champion of the world from 1882 until 1892.

Adlai to Seek 'Equal Time' For Speech

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson canceled three upstate New York political talks today. He prepared to fly to New York City and seek free radio and television time to further his contention that Eisenhower administration policies have "brought the whole world" to the brink of war.
The hostilities in Egypt virtually crowded out all other issues in the Democratic candidate's strategy as he entered the final stage of a campaign in which he is seeking to take the initiative on the "peace issue."
His campaign staff announced the cancellation of political talks in Syracuse, Rochester and Buffalo, N. Y.
Stevenson has asked "equal time" to reply to President Eisenhower's 15-minute talk last night over major TV and radio networks concerning the Middle East crisis.
Cancellation of the upstate New York talks apparently was dictated by the availability in New York City of nationwide TV and radio network facilities.
Stevenson seemed confident the time he sought would be granted under federal communications regulations requiring equal time for candidates between conventions and elections.
Last night he asked a tumultuous audience in Pittsburgh's Hunt Armory to support "efforts to end the war between Egypt and Israel" but said "I cannot promise to support or respect a foreign policy that has bluffed and blundered the United States into a shattering diplomatic disaster."
"It has brought the whole world to the brink of another war that Mr. Dulles (secretary of state) may not have planned but which he did a lot to cause," he said.
An audience which fire department officials estimated at 12,500

Marries at Age of 81

OMAHA (AP)—William B. O'Keefe, 81 years a bachelor, is getting married.
It was an old-fashioned comb that 70-year-old Mrs. Mable F. Cree wore to a church meeting that started O'Keefe on the way to the altar.
He related, "The comb was coming loose and I was saying to myself 'Shall I tell her or will she think I'm fresh. I decided to tell her.'"
They "dated" for three years before O'Keefe asked, "How about an engagement ring?" Mrs. Cree recalled "I was very elated!"
He hammered away at Republican foreign policy in rallies in New York City during a day in which a steady downpour of rain cut down his street crowds and forced him to do his speaking indoors in halls of limited capacity.
At Pittsburgh, he said Eisenhower-Dulles policies have not only alienated Great Britain and France, and lost the confidence of Israel, but left this country on the side of the Soviet Union and Egyptian dictator Gamal Abdel Nasser in the flaming Mideast crisis.

Man Complains to FBI

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—David Louis (Cockey) Bennett has been arrested 134 times since 1938, but it's the last few times that hurt. Bennett complained to the FBI. The 39-year-old unemployed laborer says Louisville police, who arrested him five times during the past week for loitering, violated his civil rights. The FBI said it would investigate.

TV Audience Is Attracted By Bowling

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—While a lot of people have been looking the other way, bowling has been attracting very large television audiences.
Whether televised bowling matches have influenced the tremendous increase in the national popularity of this sport or TV bowling merely reflects the widespread interest is a sort of chicken-or-egg argument. Certainly they are interrelated.
The television hubbub began a few years ago when a Chicago auto dealer named Peter De Met sponsored a bowling program on a local TV station there. After a short time the show developed the largest audience of any live local program in the Chicago area. If it worked in Chicago, De Met asked himself, why shouldn't it work on a national basis?
He borrowed $300,000 and launched the syndicated filmed series Championship Bowling three years ago. Its popularity increased rapidly until its audience ratings rivaled those of many widely publicized shows. Spurred by its success, competitive bowling programs such as National Bowling Champions have sprung into being.
What is there about this sport of bowling that makes it so popular? There is a bowling authority here in New York who has a fascinating theory. When he is not bowling or talking or thinking about bowling, he writes a column for the Associated Press. His name is Hal Boyle.
Boyle's theory of bowling is simply this: It is the perfect civilized way that one can work off his repressed aggressiveness, and those pins at the end of the alley represent the things that bother you most — your job or wife or husband or boss or mother-in-law. It is highly significant, believes Boyle, that his bowling ball is black — which is symbolic of the evil one casts from himself.

Men Outdoing the Women With Their Club Activity

There's been a lot of fun poked at the American clubwoman—most of it by men.

But while they have been laughing at the women, the men, themselves, have been becoming more and more organized.

Many a wife of a business or professional man will tell you that she is a "club widow." She sits home night after night while her husband rushes out to meetings—a fund drive for this organization, a publicity committee for that one, and a dinner meeting of some other group.

Men have their luncheon clubs, their service clubs, their dinner clubs, their evening clubs.

And I just noticed in the paper that some of the men in our town, obviously so booked up with meetings they are running out of time, have organized a breakfast club to meet at 6:45 a.m. one day each week.

That certainly takes the honor of being the meetingest sex away from the women. Women may be persuaded to meet in the late morning, at lunch and in the afternoon. Occasionally they'll get together in the evening, though many women still refuse to leave their husbands sitting home nights while they traipse off to club events. But women certainly wouldn't get up in time to get to a weekly meeting that starts at 6:45 a.m.

So it looks as though it is time for the men to quit making fun of the American clubwoman and start checking up on their own meeting habits.

It may astonish them to discover that they, too, have become joiners.

They also might have to admit, if they are entirely honest with themselves, that a lot of their meetings accomplish no more than the women's meetings they regard with such a superior air.

Ike Returns To Campaign Talk Tonight

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—President Eisenhower, reportedly planning new jobs at Adlai E. Stevenson, returns to the campaign platform tonight in Philadelphia for further discussion of the Middle East crisis.

In a television-radio address to be carried coast to coast by NBC the President may have something to say about a contention by Stevenson, his Democratic opponent, that "the world is on the brink of war again" because, Stevenson said, Eisenhower's "foreign policies in the Middle East have been disastrous."

Time of the address is 9:30 p.m. EST.

Stevenson made his statement in a campaign speech in Pittsburgh last night, and contended again, as he had earlier in New York, that the Eisenhower administration "bears heavy responsibility" for the situation.

In a nationwide TV-radio address from Washington last night, a talk the White House termed "nonpolitical," Eisenhower said the United States will avoid "involvement" in the present Middle East fighting.

Eisenhower's press secretary James C. Hagerty said that at the time Eisenhower went on the air he had not seen a telegram from Stevenson expressing hope "that you will not commit us to any precipitate military action."

In announcing that the President will discuss the Middle East situation further tonight, Hagerty underscored it will be a campaign address.

Asked whether Eisenhower's talk would be political in nature, Hagerty replied: "It's on a campaign platform—certainly."

The Middle East crisis caused Eisenhower to cancel a campaign

Insurance Group Elects Western Man President

For the first time in its 25-year history the National Association of Mutual Insurance Agents has elected a Western man as president of their national group. He's Ralph B. Williams of Kansas City. Another Missouri man, J. Stuart MacLellan, St. Louis, was elected as director.

The action took place during the annual meeting of the group this week in Washington, D. C. The organization numbers approximately 7,000 mutual insurance agents. National offices are maintained in Washington.

Williams' election as president is recognition of his considerable time and effort spent in mutual insurance association work. For the past five years he has been a director of the national organization and served for the past three years as vice president. He has also seen service on almost all of their committees.

In Missouri he has also served as president of the Missouri Association of Mutual Insurance Agents.

Famous Folks Maintain Youth By Not Acting Their Ages

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Famous folks often are asked what keeps them so young.

The secret of many seems to be—they don't always act their age.

Nothing really makes you feel and look older than your years than letting your calendar age put you in a mental straitjacket.

"When are you ever going to grow up?" is a rebuke often heard from the killjoys of this world.

If by growing up they mean when are you going to put away all childish pleasures and be deadly serious about everything, your answer should be a fervent, "Never, I hope!"

The trouble with people who always insist on being deadly serious is—they often become seriously dead before their time.

No one could say that Staesman Bernard Baruch, architect Frank Lloyd Wright or Casey Stengel, the leading exponent of world championship baseball, haven't done well in their respective fields. But hey are all young old men. Why? Because each has kept alive in him a small boy's sense of fun.

The late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, who quipped "Oh, to be 70 again!" had the same quality. So did gentle Albert Einstein, father of the atom age.

The adult who feels he is wasting time unless he is always thinking high thoughts or doing important deeds is guiltier of a greater waste. He commits a form of suicide. He murders the spirit of childhood in him, the child he once was and must somehow keep alive or else he'll turn forever old.

It works as simply as a formula—let the delight of childhood die within you, and you begin to wither, too.

And what does the delight of childhood consist of? It consists of the feeling of joy you get in doing things, not because they are important, but because they are fun.

Celebrities, when they aren't busy being celebrities, often relax in pursuits that seem childish to the worldly dull. The smarter the celebrity the more likely he is to have this ability to forget his own importance now and then relive the pleasure of acting like a kid.

A few examples:

Actor Yul Brynner, star of "The King and I," is sternly impressive when laying down the law to his bevy of Siamese brides. Guess what Yul does in his spare time at home? He spends hours building and operating model railroads.

The portly Aga Khan is known to the Western world chiefly because of his racing stable, but he is recognized as a religious leader by millions of followers of a Moslem sect. Know what one of his favorite pastimes is? Flying kites!

One of the most respected men in the monarch industry today is King Gustav of Sweden. But how does this elderly sovereign escape from his royal worries? He builds castles in Scandinavia with a toy mechanical set, a kind popular with two generations of American children.

Actor Walter Slezak has an $80,000 collection of musical manuscripts by Bach and Beethoven. But he also likes to build model airplanes with his three youngsters and fly them in Central Park.

Woodrow Wilson was certainly one of the most serious of U. S. presidents. But he had a lifelong interest in collecting funny limericks.

The moral is: If you want to feel like a kid, forget your dignity now and then and act like one.

MPS Helps Buy Power Machine For University

Missouri Public Service Co. is one of nine electric utilities, electric power co-operatives and industrial firms in Missouri, participating in the purchase of an electronic power network analyzer donated to the College of Engineering at the University of Missouri.

With the dedication of the complex instrument, the University will inaugurate an unusual new service for industry of Missouri and the Midwest, as well as beginning a new research and teaching program for the further advancement of engineering science.

The network analyzer is an electrical device of the type popularly called an "electric brain". It is designed to solve quickly and accurately the most complicated and time consuming problems in the field of electric power transmission. It is especially valuable in figuring electrical line loads, regulation, capacities and limitations in making short circuit and fault studies.

The use of the machine for a week or ten days could conceivably save a power company many months of time and thousands of dollars in operations of electric systems.

The college will use the analyzer in instructing students, who will also observe and be instructed when individual companies are working out their own actual problems.

Value of Missouri Farm Land Increases $10 in Last Year

WASHINGTON, D. C. — (AP) — Missouri's average value per acre of farm real estate increased from $75 on March 1, 1951, to $85.07 on the same date this year, the Agriculture Department estimates.

This compares with $82.51 an acre on March 1, 1955, $77.18 in 1954, $81.66 in 1953 and $84.61 in 1952.

Estimated value per farm in Missouri jumped from $9,720 on March 1, 1950, to $14,429 in the same month this year. Acres per farm in the state, the report said, climbed from 152.7 in March, 1951, to 169.6 in 1954.

Total value of farm land and buildings in Missouri was listed at $2,617,000,000 on March 1, 1951, and $2,909,000,000 on March 1, this year.

Dollar value of farmland in the state increased three per cent from July, 1955, to July, 1956, the same as the national average increase, according to the report.

Hurricane Dumps 50 Billion Tons of Water

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Enough rain to cover a quarter of the nation with an inch of water was dumped by Hurricane Flossy in its five-day passage across the Southeast last month. That estimate was made by the Weather Bureau here. The rain weighed 50 billion tons.

'Twenty-five Years in the Middle'--

Kansas City Mayors' Secretary Speaks To Sorosis Members on Her Experiences

It takes patience and tact to hold the position held for many years by Mrs. Ida Lee Maier, who served as secretary to several mayors of Kansas City, and that was exactly what she has. Mrs. Maier told of the many things she has done in that capacity in her talk on "Twenty-Five Years in the Middle" given Monday at Sorosis. She proved her ability at getting along with people by the fact that she worked for several mayors and it didn't make any difference about their politics, she remained throughout completely non-partisan.

Mrs. Maier said she stood as well as she could between the mayor and the people who wanted to see him and also between citizen and citizen. She always had the boss behind her even when she happened to be wrong, and in front of her was the taxpayer.

The mayor of a city, she said, is always the "great white father" and is expected to do everything, even to loaning money. During the depression, particularly, she said, they would come to borrow car fare to get to a job they might have been able to find and when they got paid they would pay it back. Mayors, Mrs. Maier said, are even expected to correct national problems. When people would come in and expect favors from the mayor she would ask: "Did you vote for him because you wanted favors from him or because you thought he was a good man for the office?" Nobody would admit they voted for a man just to receive favors.

Mayors are called upon to settle family disputes, trim trees, get birds out of the trees, or maybe squirrels, fix holes in the street and all kinds of things. That was where Mrs. Maier came in; she would find out what they wanted and then contact the person who could do the job for them, that is, all except the family disputes. But, she said, some people just like to go to headquarters.

There are the people who are a little unbalanced, too, who find their way to the mayor's office. One day a very nice looking man about 25 years old came in, after talking a bit, he told her he was a stepson of both parents. Then while she was trying to figure that one out, Mrs. Maier said, he confided that he was really the son of the Queen Mother Mary of England and J. P. Morgan.

In another case, a man had received a warning about burning leaves on the street and he felt he was going to be arrested. He argued he felt he shouldn't be arrested because those weren't his leaves, they were off of somebody else's trees. Then there was the woman who wanted the sheriff arrested, but they tried to tell her they couldn't arrest the sheriff. After a bit of quiet checking, however, they found the name of the man she wanted arrested was Sheriff.

One of the unbalanced ones, who was always in a good humor and wore a beautiful pink hat, she said, was a Negro man, who made the rounds testing all the pens every day.

But there were many nice people one met by being in the mayor's office, too—Lord and Lady Nottingham, Lord Halifax, Admiral

King. Then in the centennial year, 1950, there was to be a big luncheon with several celebrities present and someone said that Mrs. Truman had just returned home for a few days' rest. They felt she should be invited to the luncheon but couldn't call her. The mayor suggested Mrs. Maier contact his wife, who was a personal friend of Mrs. Truman, and she was to invite her. In the meantime Mrs. Maier called a close friend of Mrs. Truman who lived near her and asked if Mrs. Truman was home, telling her what she wanted. A short time later the telephone rang and the voice on the other end of the line said: "Mrs. Maier, this is Mrs. Truman, did you want to talk to me?"

"That," said Mrs. Maier, "was the last thing in the world I wanted to do." She was almost speechless. She didn't want to be the one to extend the invitation to the luncheon but she was very pleased to be invited. That, said Mrs. Maier, is one of the nice things you find about people in high places.

The citizen-against-citizen angle is something for the woman in the middle. When it came up about dogs on leashes, there were some who wanted it and some who didn't. There were some who said the dogs tore up their gardens and yards, and one woman said she wouldn't object to a dog in her neighborhood if they could have it de-barked. The animal shelter was another thing; nobody wanted it in their neighborhood, but it had to be some place. Truck routes were another thing, and some people were unhappy about the improvement of the zoo with the bond money which wasn't tax money, some objected to the Starlight Theatre, and there was a lot of trouble about rent control. The major league baseball was another issue. It is very difficult, she said, to keep everybody happy. "This is about what goes on in every town," Mrs. Maier said, "and I hope this talk will make you understand your own town and its problems better."

Mrs. Maier was introduced by Mrs. W. B. Rich, art and drama chairman.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Harold Dean, president. Mrs. T. H. Yount asked that any historical costumes the women might have be turned over to the club, that they might start the collection of gowns for a history of Pettis County, as has been done in the Kansas City Museum. These gowns will be well taken care of, she said.

Mrs. Chester L. Wolfe announced that the program next week will be presented by Professor Walter Hearn, who teaches history of religion at Bible College, University of Missouri, Columbia. His subject will be "The Biggest Idea in the World." There will be a luncheon, with reservations to be in by Friday noon.

Two Demos Wage Battle In GOP State

MONTPELIER, Vt. (AP) — Two Democrats are waging the hottest campaign in years for governor and U. S. senator in traditionally Republican Vermont.

E. Frank Branon, the Democratic nominee for governor, claims he will get enough votes from the state's minority of Democrats and a group of dissatisfied Republicans to become the first Democratic governor of the state in 102 years.

Branon, a state senator and dairy farmer from the small town of Fairfield, is out to displace Gov. Joseph B. Johnson, who defeated him by a 5,200-vote margin in 1954.

In the other principal contest, Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt.) is running for his third full term with opposition from Bernard G. O'Shea, the 35-year-old editor of a Swanton weekly newspaper.

Both Republicans and Democratic leaders agree that President Eisenhower again will get the state's three electoral votes.

And they agree also that Branon's campaign is the stronger of the two being waged by the Democrats.

But Gov. Johnson and other Republican leaders say they have no doubt of the outcome. They figure the maximum Democratic strength at 60,000 votes, and they are forecasting a state vote of 150,000 or better.

The Branon and O'Shea campaigns have given Vermont a real election campaign for the first time in history.

Banners and placards are in every city and major town, and there have been political rallies in towns where a statewide candidate never even campaigned before.

The issues are purely local in the contest for governor.

The Aiken-O'Shea contest touches more on the national issues, principally on the farm program.

O'Shea has come out for the Democratic plan for rigid farm price supports. Aiken says adoption of that program would be a disservice to Vermont's farmers.

Aiken says the farmers now are receiving 108 per cent of parity for their blended milk, with no limit on production. The Democrats' rigid support plan, he said, would bring production controls.

Poll Shows Ike in Lead--

County in Indiana Has Cast Vote for Winner 15 Times

By IRWIN J. MILLER

EVANSVILLE, Indiana (AP) — If the people of Vanderburgh County vote the way straw polls say they will and if they continue a trend they started in 1896, President Eisenhower will be re-elected next Tuesday.

These are big "ifs" because straw polls often are wrong and trends often are broken.

Nevertheless, for 15 straight national elections Vanderburgh County has given a majority vote to the winning presidential candidate.

This is a distinction shared by only seven other counties in the nation. So every four years national attention focuses on this southwestern Indiana industrial city and its surrounding farm lands.

Many straw polls have been taken in the county in recent weeks — and they all add up to probable victory for President Eisenhower in the county, but by a greatly reduced margin from his 42,010 to 29,718 sweep of 1952. The consensus of the polls is that his margin will be less than 5,000.

Reasons for the long record of "right" voting puzzle local politicians and observers.

Some say the county has a higher than average percentage of independent voters whose swings of opinion reflect national trends. Others call the county a population cross-section. Several say the record is one of chance and may be broken this year.

"The 'population cross-section' theory has one flaw — the county is much more urban and industrialized than the national average.

The 1950 census showed 123,636 of the county's 160,422 residents lived in Evansville. Percentage-wise, only 14.3 per cent of the county's population was rural and only 3 per cent was classed as farming.

The labor vote is a powerful influence, with nearly 40 per cent of the county's employed persons working in manufacturing. This figure includes executives and office workers, Wholesale and retail trade employ about 22 per cent.

Evansville's chief industry is the making of refrigerators, followed closely by automobile body making and assembling.

Another factor affecting the county's voting is a strong Southern influence in Evansville.

An important shipping terminal on the Ohio River, the city lies farther south geographically than Louisville, Ky., and has drawn a large part of its population from the South. Many of its workers

Town Talks Of Weather, Telephones

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—People here talk about the telephone strike, the weather — and the telephone strike.

They aren't sure which affects them more. "Beautiful day" or "lousy weather" used to be the greeting. Now they pass on the streets, grimly shake their heads and mumble something about "telephones" or the lack of them.

Usually, they are trotting somewhere they wouldn't have trotted 17 days ago. That was when Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. closed its exchanges here and in surrounding Scioto County after the installations were stoned by 500 persons.

This is the third and longest telephone blackout this Ohio river city has seen during the strike, now in its 110th day. The strike began July 15 when 636 members of the Communications Workers of America walked off their jobs in parts of 24 southern Ohio counties.

Besides Portsmouth, a city of some 40,000, at least six other communities served by the company have gone without telephones during the long and bitter dispute.

Portsmouth housewives resort to the old-fashioned gossiping over a backyard fence. Messenger service and parlor chats are back in vogue. Taxi-cab drivers cruise the streets hoping to be flagged rather than snoozing while waiting for telephone calls. Western Union is working like it never did before.

The police, taxi companies and amateur radio operators have set up an emergency broadcast system that is connected with hospitals, law enforcement agencies and fire stations.

Sixty-one extra state highway patrolmen sent here by Gov. Frank J. Lausche also deliver emergency messages either by radio or in their cars.

The off-and-on contract negotiations were scheduled to resume Friday in Cleveland. So far, the talks have whittled deadline issues down from around a score to 16. But concessions from either side appeared unlikely on the company's demands for a no-strike clause, the union's stand for a union shop and the company's holdout to de-unionize certain supervisory employees.

commute from Henderson, Ky., just across the river.

The Negro population of 5.7 per cent is not high considering the city's location. Evansville schools once were segregated, but no longer are.

Henry Gonner, executive secretary of the Evansville Chamber of Commerce, thinks the county may have become a political and it's near the center of population."

However, most observers say it is because of a fairly close division of basic strength between the two major parties, coupled with a good-sized independent vote which goes the way of the national trend.

The Sheik of Kuwait, a 6,000-square-mile area at the head of the Persian Gulf, gets $200 million a year in American-British oil royalties.

Sales of bottled soft drinks in 1955 increased for a record 184.2 bottles per person annually in the U.S.

Approximately 40 per cent of U.S. public and private secondary schools now offer automobile driver instruction to students.

New Increase In Steel Price Is Indicated

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Pressure is building up again for another rise in the price of steel.

This comes while the effects of the price boost last summer are still working their way through the production of finished goods you buy in the stores.

Several steel executives are contending that another price hike is in the cards. They insist that last summer's rise of around $3.50 a ton to meet the wage increase that ended the steel strike wasn't enough to make up for still rising costs of materials and services.

And another steel wage hike would come automatically if the cost of living index should rise further. Steel wage rates are now tied to the index. The index rose to a new high in September and many think a further climb is ahead.

Along with their talk of higher prices, the executives are boosting their optimistic predictions of future production rates.

Demand from the construction industry, ship builders, oilmen, freight car makers is so high that the steel mills can't meet all of it. Orders are piling up and the mills now predict capacity operations through the first half of next year.

It is against this background — rising costs at the steel mills and high demand that appears likely to hold for months — that top men of Bethlehem, Armco and Inland Steel have come forward in recent days to claim that higher prices are needed.

Many in the industry see U. S. Steel's traditional reluctance to hike prices as the main factor in holding the present line. Unless U. S. Steel moves, pressure for higher prices is likely to be confined to the talking stage.

It's Time for the Hearty Fall Dishes

Do You Pass Buck to Mate On Voting?

WASHINGTON — Are you the pass-the-buck-to-your-mate type when it comes to balloting?

On election morning will you turn to your wife and mutter, "Honey, you vote for the family today, I'm going to be too busy working."

Or as a devoted little lady will you tell your husband, "My place is in the home, honey. I'm not going to vote."

Either way you stack it, these are two important reasons why many married Americans will avoid the polls in November, according to delegates from all over the country at the National Conference on Citizenship.

They gathered here to improve the nation's deplorable voting record.

Four years ago, for example, only 63 per cent of the eligible voters in the U. S. voted for Eisenhower or Stevenson.

In marked contrast, 75 to 85 per cent of the voting population in England, Switzerland, Belgium and France cast their ballots in national elections.

"People laugh at us in Europe," says Judge Carl B. Hyatt, executive director of the conference. "They say our democracy is not cracked up to what it's supposed to be when we don't vote."

"In this atomic age, we're living too rapid a life to take out time to vote. There should be a spiritual revival and we should preach the importance of voting."

At the same time Hyatt and others see less profound reasons why citizens do not vote. One obstacle is baby-sitters.

"Many women would vote if they had a place to leave their children," says Mrs. Wyman H. Chadwick of Hyattsville, Md., past national president of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

As a result her organization is setting up election day nurseries where mothers can deposit their kids while voting.

"Some men also leave voting to their wives," says Mrs. Chadwick. "They feel women are intelligent and capable enough to vote, so why should they bother?"

Sidney G. Kusworm of Dayton, Ohio, representing B'nai B'rith and the Ohio State Bar Association, takes a slightly different view.

"Many women figure the husband is the bread-winner and he should do the voting," he says. "They think their place is in the home, and that it's a man's business."

People also take the view that politics is a dirty business and they should have nothing to do with it, according to Kusworm.

"Too many promises of politicians are not kept," is the opinion of Mack L. Lupton, mayor of New Bern, N. C. "After a while, thinking people become disgusted and decide not to vote."

He also confirms that a lot of ladies down his way feel that voting should be left up to the husband.

"Lack of voting is mainly due to the fact that people figure their own individual vote doesn't count," says Thomas F. Clear of Stamford, Conn., who is principal of an elementary school.

"This is the same philosophy drivers take about highway fatalities when they say it won't be me."

He thinks one answer is to get children after their parents. "The youngsters have tremendous influence," explains Clear. "When a kid wants you to do something, he'll keep after you until you do it."

HEARTY AUTUMN MEAL—Broiled ham steak with currant jelly, sauerkraut with apples.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor

That time-tested combination, sauerkraut and apples, is one that's good to remember for a hearty cool-weather supper. Our favorite quick way of preparing the sauerkraut and apples is to put them in a big skillet with onion and brown sugar. If you use an attractive-looking skillet, you can bring it right to the table.

Choose apples that do not easily "fall apart" during cooking if you want to serve firm apple slices with the sauerkraut. If you don't mind the apples getting "mushy," choose such a variety as McIntosh. In a way having the apples fall apart is all to the good because the good fruit flavor reaches every strand of the cabbage!

Pork chops and pork roast are fine with the sauerkraut and apple team. But equally delicious, is broiled ham with currant jelly.

SKILLET KRAUT AND APPLES

Ingredients: 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 1 medium-sized onion (finely chopped), 3 tablespoons light or dark brown sugar, 1 can (1-pound) sauerkraut, salt and pepper, 2 medium-sized red unpeeled apples (cored and cut in eighths).

Method: Melt butter in a medium-sized skillet (about 10 inches) over moderately low heat. Add onion and cook, stirring often, until wilted and yellowed (or until lightly browned if you prefer). Mix in brown sugar and sauerkraut; add salt and pepper to taste. Bury apple slices in sauerkraut. Cover and cook slowly, stirring a few times, until apples are tender—about 10 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Extension Club Meets

The West View Friendly Neighbor Extension Club met all day with Mrs. Elanor Foley. Quilting was done for the hostess and a contributive dinner was served at noon to 12 members and six visitors.

Mrs. Lora McDaniel, president, conducted the afternoon business meeting. Mrs. Walt Friedly led in prayer. Mrs. B. F. Alsine gave a report on Achievement Day. Mrs. McDaniel gave the loan envelope. Several members received Pollyanna gifts.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Ralph Ayres.

Mrs. Cerny attended a luncheon at the Colonial Tea Room given by her niece, Mrs. Jack Dulle, honoring Mrs. Walker, great-aunt of Mrs. Dulle. Among the guests were Mrs. W. F. Thomas, sister of Mrs. Cerny, in whose home Mrs. Walker is staying while in Jefferson City. Mrs. Earl Sullivan of Fulton, another niece of Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Orville Liston of Webster Groves, sister of the hostess and friends.

Businessmen Are United In Prediction

NEW YORK (AP) — Businessmen and economists — with only a handful of exceptions — are united today in predicting more of what one bank dubs "exuberant prosperity."

They are doing so for the most part without much hedging on such hazards as the outcome of the national election, the upheaval in Eastern Europe and the strife in the Middle East.

They appear to see the momentum of good times overriding national and international political turmoil.

"The outlook is bright" is the phrase that keeps popping up when industrialists — steel, autos, oil, machinery, rail equipment, even some textile executives — report on what has happened in their companies over the last nine months and what they foresee ahead. In many cases they are including the first part of 1957 as well as the remaining two months of 1956.

"Prosperity today is our biggest problem," says David F. Austin, executive vice president of U.S. Steel. The booming economy is taxing the steel industry's ability to keep up, let alone expand.

"A straining economy" is what the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York calls it today in its November survey. It sees "demand straining hard against supply in most basic lines and inflationary pressures threatening to gain the ascendancy."

But it finds present conditions mainly favorable, citing a new record for September in total civilian employment, a significant drop in the number of unemployed, a rise in the average factory worker's hourly wage rate, increasing industrial production, and a fairly satisfactory volume of retail trade.

"These trends in production, trade and employment add up to a condition of exuberant prosperity," the bank's economists report. "Momentum from these forces alone would seem a strong indication that business will still be booming at the year's end."

Noting that businessmen "seem to be very hopeful that activity will be sustained well into 1957, at least," the bank finds it "difficult to quarrel with this view."

But true to their calling, the bankers then add some notes of caution.

Foremost they put "the rather unsatisfactory trend of corporate profits."

Joe Louis Slows Down; Only Commercial Time Permits Interrupting TV Reverie

By WARD CANNEL
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The former heavyweight champion of the world lay dwarfed on the vast, pink counterpane which covered his enormous bed. He was watching a western movie on his television set and his wife said that he watched a lot of television nowadays.

You guessed out loud that Joe Louis must be doing a lot of resting while his heart heals. Several weeks ago he was refused a wrestling license in Illinois because fractured ribs had scarred the outer layer of his heart.

Joe Louis said nothing and watched the screen.

His wife, Rose Morgan, said:

"Ask him again during the commercial."

So, you asked him and he said: "I watch a lot of television. I go to bed early but I don't go to sleep until after the late show. I just lie here on the bed and watch the sports and the westerns. This is the first time in four days I've been out of my pajamas."

It is a sudden and different and slow way of life he leads now. Under doctor's orders he cannot play golf, cannot go out to the ball park, cannot exert himself in any way.

These days he eats only two meals. Breakfast of hardboiled eggs, bacon, toast and tea. And dinner of a steak. He has lost 15 pounds and has another 10 to go.

In the northwest corner of the Chicago and Detroit. You wondered what news he was looking for from his old home-towns.

Each day he and his wife read these papers to prepare for the questions they will be asked on Saturday nights on Dennis James' quiz show, "High Finance."

If they can compete successfully, they stand to win about $75,000—all of which will go directly to the Internal Revenue Service in part payment for Joe's impossible tax debt of 1.3 million dollars.

About that tax business, you say. But it is too late: The commercial is over and Joe Louis is at one with television set.

Clear and cool, Rose Morgan's voice says:

"It's a terrible thing. Making him go into wrestling just to pay those taxes. He's one of the greatest champs of all time. It's like making an ex-President wash dishes for a living."

But don't get the idea that she and Joe are starving, she said. "I have my own business, and it's the publicity from the quiz show."

Besides marketing her own brand of Rose Meta cosmetics, Rose Morgan employs 135 people in her two beauty salons in New York City. In addition, there is Joe's income from his Chicago milk business, public relations firm and insurance agency.

Joe was leaning forward now, in an intense crouch, as the television movie increased its pace.

"This is a new kind of life for him," Rose said. "He's beginning to learn how to settle down to home life."

It was commercial time on the screen and you asked Joe about how it felt to be settling down.

"I'm not settling down," There was an edge in the voice.

You explained quickly that you meant a new life like being a television actor.

"Oh, that," The voice relaxed. "Sure, I'd like it. But they'd have to make it one film. I can't be tied down. Gotta keep moving. Gotta keep moving around."

The television movie was on again. Joe Louis, turning back to the screen, said dreamily:

"Rose, I'm getting hungry for breakfast." And then he was back with the cowboys.

Rose Morgan stood up—a beautiful woman who looked as though she were used to her own way.

"I never saw such a man," she said. "You've got to wait on him hand and foot."

She walked out of the bedroom and down the thickly carpeted stairs, through the rich green, yellow and black living room, through the shiny dining room and into the kitchen.

"He is settling down," she said. "Only he doesn't know it yet."

She filled a pot with water and put it on the stove. "He's 42 years old and he's not the champ anymore. People still call 'Hyah Joe' in the street. But it's not like the old days."

When he was the champ, Rose said, they used to have a limousine waiting for him. And after that was over, he used to take taxis everywhere.

"But now that's over, too," she said. "She put three eggs in the water. Last winter he had to go downtown and he took the subway for the first time in his life. He was real polite and stood back for the crowd to go in first. He missed two trains that way. Then he got in there and shoved with the rest of them."

You wondered where this new way of life would take Joe Louis.

"Well, for instance," his wife said, "we could put out a whole line of men's cosmetics with his name on it."

That Old Fashioned Cake Is the Best

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
One of the delights of our Canadian childhood was to watch our mother baking a jelly roll. Lolling in a chair at one side of the large kitchen table, chin cupped in palms, we watched in fascinated silence while she smoothed sugar over a freshly laundered tea towel.

After lifting the big flat pan from the oven, she turned out the cake over the sugar and spread it with gleaming red jelly. With her deft right hand she guided the cake, and with her left hand she lifted high the snowy towel as she rolled the dessert to a finish. It was all done, with the sureness of a practiced cook, in a matter of seconds. But to our young and wondering eyes it was a miracle.

Wrapped in its towel, the cake was left sitting until a precise moment — four o'clock tea — when it was gently removed, sliced, served and eaten blissfully.

We were startled the other day when, after describing this jelly roll rite, a friend asked us what sort of jelly our mother used. It never occurred to us that anything but homemade red currant jelly could go into a "real" jelly roll.

Modern sponge - cake rolls do not always use jelly and despite nostalgic memories, we admit that some of the present-day fillings are detectable. One of our own is a custardy concoction with crushed pineapple. Recently, to please both children and older guests, we made this a two-way filling. Maraschino cherries were folded into one-half of the fine pineapple custard and spread over one half of the cake; rum flavoring went into the other half of the filling and it in turn was spread over the remaining half of the cake. Then the sponge layer was rolled as usual. When we served the roll, the youngsters were happy with the cherry part and a few of our older guests asked for a slice from each end!

BUTTER-SPONGE CAKE ROLL
Ingredients: 1 cup sifted cake flour, 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 3 large eggs, vanilla, 1 cup sugar, one-third cup water, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, confectioners' sugar, Two-way Filling, ½ cup heavy cream.

Method: Grease bottom of jelly roll pan (15 ½ by 10 ½ by 1 inch); line bottom with waxed paper; butter paper. Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Beat eggs and 1 teaspoon vanilla with rotary beater (hand or electric) until they begin to get thick and a pale yellow color. Add the sugar, a couple of tablespoons at smooth. Turn into prepared pan. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven just until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean — about 15 minutes. Loosen cake from sides of pan with spatula. Invert onto a tea towel spread with confectioners' sugar. Quickly remove paper with the help of a spatula. Starting with long end, roll cake and towel together so inside of cake is against outside of towel. Place on cake racks to cool. Unroll and spread with Two-way Filling: roll up again with towel just on outside. Refrigerate until serving time. Spread or garnish outside of roll with whipped cream (sweetened to taste with confectioners' sugar and flavored with vanilla) before serving. Makes 8 servings.

TWO-WAY FILLING

Ingredients: 1 tablespoon cornstarch, ½ cup milk; 2 egg yolks, 1 can (9 ounces) crushed pineapple, one-third cup drained sliced maraschino cherries, rum time; beat gently just until

Method: Put cornstarch in top of double boiler; stir until smooth with a couple of tablespoons of the milk. Add remaining ½ cup milk and egg yolks; beat just until combined. Stir in undrained crushed pineapple. Place over simmering water; cook and stir constantly until thickened — 10 minutes or longer. Place over cold or ice water and stir occasionally until cool. Stir the sliced cherries into one-half of the filling and spread over one-half of the sponge cake. Stir rum flavoring to taste into other half of the filling and spread over remaining half of the cake. Roll cake and filling up as directed in Butter-Sponge Cake Roll recipe.

Now Forestall Unnecessary Degeneration of Body Processes And Vitality Losses Due to Dietary Insufficiency Of These Six Anti-Degenerative Elements: Protein, Iron, Calcium, Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin...

After 40 Help Keep Normal Vitality Up Longer

With The New Miracle Loaf

STAFF

SPECIAL DIET BREAD

Containing High, Potent Amounts Of The Above Six Anti-Degenerative Elements For Maintenance And Repair Of Cells, Tissues, Organs, Bones

Gerontology, the science of aging, attributes much needless degeneration of physical and mental vitality after 40 to a deficiency of these six dietary elements:

(1) protein; (2) iron; (3) calcium; (4) Vitamin B₁; (5) Vitamin B₂; (6) niacin.

Failure of the body to secure sufficient amounts of one or all of these six "anti-degenerative" elements can result in serious deterioration in the structure and health of bones, organs, tissues and cells.

Normally, all the elements for good nutrition are supplied in a well-balanced diet. However, too many people, particularly after 40, fail to eat meals of good dietary proportions.

Thus risk losing normal mental and physical vitality.

A Boon To People Over 40

Recognition of this common danger to people over 40 has now resulted in the scientific development of a new loaf to take the place of ordinary bread.

The name of this new miracle loaf is Staff. It is different from any loaf ever before known principally in that Staff contains high, potent amounts of these six "anti-degenerative" elements which must be present in the dietary to avoid vitality losses.

Thus, eating Staff is like taking a prescription... "an ounce of prevention" that can help you keep normal vitality up longer. (Please note: Staff is not a "cure." Only a doctor can help the person suffering the effects of deficiency of any one or all of the six anti-degenerative elements.)

Better Than Taking Medicine

To doctors who specialize in treatment of older people, good nutrition is of utmost concern.

First, because good food is fundamental to good health.

Second, because the cost of medicines is a hardship to many older people.

Most important, well-nourished older bodies are better able to withstand shock and disease.

Thus, eating Staff as "an ounce of prevention" to avoid falling into a "deficiency hole" is better than paying for medicines to get out of a "deficiency hole."

Keep Normal Vitality Up Longer

To help keep normal vitality up longer, eat a well-balanced diet of protein foods such as milk, meat, fish, eggs, cheese; energy foods such as bread, beans and potatoes; protective foods such as oranges, tomatoes and green-leafed and yellow vegetables.

And eat Staff Bread every day.

Because Staff contains high, potent amounts of the six anti-degenerative food elements which gerontology recognizes many people fail to eat in sufficient amounts.

6 ounces of Staff daily should help protect you against deficiency in these vitality-saving elements.

Costs More — Worth More

Staff is white with a somewhat firm texture. And a flavor richer than ordinary white bread. And a wonderful toasting quality.

Staff costs more than ordinary white bread. However, the nutritional improvements make it vastly superior.

And it's smarter to eat Staff rather than ordinary white bread and buying medicine to get the same six anti-degenerative food elements contained in Staff.

Thus... as "an ounce of prevention"... you are urged to eat Staff every day.

Start eating Staff today... eat 6 ounces (about 7 slices) each day to help keep your precious vitality up.

Get Staff fresh from your grocer today. You'll be glad you did.

Need for Training in How to Vote

What's so frightening about entering a voting place, receiving a ballot from an election clerk, retiring to a voting booth, marking a ballot and then depositing it in a box?

Is it because of the unfamiliarity with the mechanics of voting that many voters, new ones especially, dread to vote.

How many thousands of votes are not cast in an election merely because qualified voters are not familiar with the procedures and stay away from the polls because they are terrified to admit their ignorance or are too self-conscious to ask questions.

Or how many votes cast are invalidated because voters improperly mark the ballot?

Commenting on this during a recent election, a judge said it was all very well to tell folks what to vote for, but election boards would be a lot happier if more voters would put their "X's" in the right place, inside the square. "If you ask me," he said, "they ought to have some sort of training to teach people how to vote."

This suggestion is something for the high schools, the service and civic clubs to work on as program material between now and the next election. It's too late, perhaps for the one coming up Tuesday. Practice would develop a feeling of ease in the election booth. Then there might not be so many checks instead of X's marked on the ballot, and in the wrong place. Advance training for voting is being proposed in Ohio's public schools.

A revealing sidelight on the subject of how uninformed some adult voters are about how to mark a ballot correctly may be determined by starting a discussion in almost any social or club group meeting. Conflicting interpretations are a dime a dozen.

Preceding election, copies of official ballots and instructions are published in the press. But instructions in fine print on how to mark a ballot are ignored in the manner one disregards the fine print in an insurance policy.

To be sure these instructions may be read at the polls, but that is a poor time to digest the information.

To settle prevailing arguments and differences of opinion on the local scene about how to mark a ballot we are here-with reprinting a portion of the Instructions to Voters which appeared in the certification by the County Clerk of the Official Ballot published last Sunday:

"Should the voter desire to vote a 'straight' party ticket he shall place a cross (X) mark in the circle immediately below the party name. If the voter desires to vote for one or more candidates on more than one party ticket, by voting what is commonly called a 'split ticket,' he may place a cross (X) mark in the circle immediately below one party name and mark cross (X) marks in the squares at the left of the names of candidates on other tickets for whom he wishes to vote . . . The squares so marked shall take precedence over the cross marked in the circle . . . All candidates of the party whose circle is marked shall be counted as voted for excepting where squares are crossed preceding the names of candidates in other columns . . . If the cross (X) is not placed in the circle immediately below the party name at the head of the column, but does appear in the squares opposite the various candidates' names, then only these names shall be counted for, and none other. A cross (X) mark is any line crossing any other line at an angle within the voting space, and no ballot shall be declared void because a cross (X) mark therein is irregular in form."

Voting procedures are not difficult but they are precise and must be followed as prescribed.

Voting right involves more than picking the right candidates—place your cross (X) marks in the squares where they will count—do not use a check mark.

Washington Merry-Go-Round--

Israel Feared Nasser's Soviet Arms

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON.—The reason for the Israeli attack on Egypt was quite simple. It was based on the assumption that Colonel Nasser, once he had the Suez Canal dispute settled and the French and British armies off his neck, was certain to attack Israel.

As long as the United Nations had him on the spot and as long as British and French troops hovered near him, Israel knew it was in no danger.

But with around $260,000,000 worth of Russian arms stashed away in his arsenals, and with the Arab world looking to him for leadership against the West, Nasser was almost certain to attack.

Israel had the alternative of sitting still, expecting an overnight raid from modern Russian Mig's which could reach Tel Aviv from the Egyptian border in about 30 minutes, or of taking the initiative.

So when Iraqi troops entered Jordan to cement a military alliance, and when Jordan, Syria and Egypt also tightened their military hook-ups, Israeli Army Chiefs decided it was time to strike.

As Big As Massachusetts

To get the picture of what's going on, you have to envisage a little country about the size of Massachusetts, only much narrower in spots. In one place Israel extends only seven miles from Nathanya on the Mediterranean, named for Nathan Strauss, the first U. S. Housing Administrator, to the border of Jordan. The airport near Tel Aviv is only two and a half miles from the border, while Jordan comes within ten yards of the Sea of Galilee.

Thus, in every direction Israel faces, except toward the Mediterranean, she is surrounded by Arab neighbors.

This came about because in 1948, when the British gave up their Palestine mandate under the League of Nations, the Arab countries decided to move in and carve up Palestine. They were so confident that some wealthy Arabs left their homes with all their clothes behind figuring they would be back in a few days after the Jews had been pushed out.

Instead the Jews pushed the Egyptian Army, strongest of all the Arab forces, right down to the edge of the Suez Canal. They would have pushed them back to Cairo if the British hadn't intervened.

Other Arab neighbors were pushed well beyond the original boundaries proposed by the United Nations in 1947. Jewish leaders had accepted this boundary. The Arabs had not. Ever since, the Arabs have been trying to go back to the 1947 UN proposals which they rejected.

But Premier Ben-Gurion's reply is: "We accept if the Arabs will return the 5,000 dead Israelis lost in that war."

Wars Since Goliath

None of the borders around Israel are marked by barbed-wire entanglements or even stone markers. When you come to the edge of the Iron Curtain around the Soviet, you are halted by a mass of barbed wire. Along the Canadian-American boundary are white stone pillars.

But between Israel and the Arab countries there is nothing. An Arab girl can be tending her flocks on one side of the border and a young Jewish farmer can be driving a tractor a few yards away. They know where the border is because they live there. A stranger wouldn't.

This lack of fortifications makes border raids easy. Raiding parties forged back and forth across the border at least once a week, when I was in Israel.

The Negev, where the trouble started between Egypt and Israel, is one of the wildest, roughest areas in the Near East. Bedouins and their flocks roam over parched sand and hills that remind you of the table land of Arizona or the bad lands of South Dakota.

It is not a land worth fighting for, but war after war has been fought here nonetheless since David slew Goliath and since Samson slew the Philistines with the jawbone of an ass.

It is down in this corner between Israel and Egypt also that Moses led the tribes of Israel across the Red Sea as far as the hills of Moab. More recently it is in this general area that the Egyptians have cut off Israeli ships from coming up to Elath at the head of the Red Sea. They have even prevented Israeli planes from flying over this area. Israeli ships were the first to be banned from the Suez Canal, even at a time when France and Britain still controlled its navigation.

Package Plans For Peace

The only thing that could have stopped a near eastern war was a Package Peace Plan for both Suez and the entire area. Such a package plan was advocated by Ambassador Eric Johnston, Republican, and by Harry Truman, Democrat. Truman had worked out the plans before he left the White House. Johnston has been to the Near East several times in the past three years to try to put them across.

The State Department under John Foster Dulles, however, never had much confidence in these plans, and Dulles in his frantic zigzagging across the Atlantic over Suez either forgot or ignored them.

Johnston argued that the Suez Canal would be out of date in ten years, would have to require another canal or two more pipelines in order to carry enough oil for Western Europe. But you can't lay pipelines across hostile Arab nations. They cut them in two.

Johnston was also working on a Jordan River irrigation project similar to the Tennessee Valley Authority to benefit Israel, Syria, Lebanon and Jordan.

Truman's ideas were more expansive. He wanted to reconstruct the irrigation system on the Tigris and the Euphrates which once made what is now Iraq one of the most prosperous countries in the world. He wanted to build a special canal from the Mediterranean to the Dead Sea to generate enough water power to make that country the industrial center of the Near East.

Truman and Johnston have argued that the Arabs and Jews are both semitic peoples, both descended from the prophet Abraham, and that tying them together on economic projects could finally bring peace to the Near East.

The World Today--

Ike's Comment Is Only Part of Dilemma

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON.—President Eisenhower's attempt to balance the Middle East picture — by criticizing the British, the French, the Israelis and the Egyptians — put a spotlight on this country's critical dilemma.

But it is only part of the problem unleashed by the British-French attack on Egypt.

Top government officials are privately very angry at the British and French. But the United States needs its two allies, as they need the United States, for defense against Russia.

In his speech to the nation last night Eisenhower tried to keep the way smooth for retaining the alliance. He chided the British and French for what they did, but he did not speak harshly of them.

And, while criticizing this country's friends, he also blamed Egyptian President Nasser for aggravating them.

But the Arabs have ears too. No Arab can ever be expected to forget the attack on Egypt this week by the French and British, who acted like the colonial powers which they were and are.

Already the Russians are accusing the United States of being in cahoots with the British, French and Israelis in the attack on Egypt.

Unless they can be convinced the United States does not condone the attack, the people of the Middle East will have no reason ever to trust a Western power again.

The people of Africa and Asia, newly freed from colonialism, will be watching the United States also.

This country attempted in the U.N. Security Council to block the French-British attack this week. The French and British blocked the United States with a veto. Now the case goes to the U.N. General Assembly.

What the United States does there to get U.N. action of some kind against the British and French will be under scrutiny everywhere. Yet, if the United States acts too strongly, it may wreck its alliance with Britain and France.

The people of Asia and Africa have reason to distrust the British and French from now on. It's not difficult for them to see themselves someday in the present position of Egypt.

But if they lose faith in the United States, they will have no powerful ally to turn to except Russia. The Arabs may well turn to Russia now no matter what the United States does.

Dr. Jordan Says--

Know What to Do When Burn Accidents Happen

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

It will probably never be possible to avoid burns altogether, though this is the objective for which we should strive by using greater precautions against accidents in the home and elsewhere.

Since most burns undoubtedly happen when there is no doctor around, everyone should know what to do until he comes. Doing the right thing may be life-saving, and certainly makes the professional care easier and more rapid later on.

Flame, steam, or even just an extremely hot surface can injure the skin and produce a burn or a scald. The damage done depends on the surface involved, the amount of heat causing the injury, and the length of time during which the skin is in contact with the hot substance.

Hot solids or liquids are the most common causes of burns. Friction, chemicals, electricity, and such agents as ultra-violet lamps, X-rays, and exposure to the sun are also responsible for burns.

Extent of injury to the underlying tissues is the basis for the usual classification of burns. In first degree burns there is merely slight reddening of the skin. Second degree burns cause blistering of the skin; the skin over the blister is completely killed. In third degree burns, the tissues lying beneath the skin are killed and sometimes charred.

Minor burns — except those caused by chemicals, X-rays, and unusual situations — can be treated by any one of several excellent ointments. These ointments, if they do not have to be applied to too large a skin surface, reduce the pain and aid the healing.

They should not be used, however, if the burned surface extends over a wide area of skin. When in doubt, the safest thing to use on burns is a petroleum jelly covered by a thin layer of sterile gauze.

For severe burns, including second and third degree burns, the advice of a physician should be sought as soon as possible. Until he comes, it is wise not to do too much. Loose clothing should be cut away from the burned area, but if any is sticking, it should be left where it is.

Greases, oils, or ointments should never be applied to large burned surfaces. They are difficult to remove, may produce pain, and often interfere with what the physician wishes to do later. Neither absorb-

Russian penetration and domination of the Middle East wouldn't have to happen overnight. The Russians have time.

This is all based on the assumption that Russia will not get actively into the conflict now. If that happened, there'd be a world war.

But more than all that is involved.

By their determination to go ahead with their attack on Egypt, no matter what the U.N. thought, the French and British have dealt that organization a blow from which it may not recover.

Further, it is possible vengeful Arabs will cut the Middle East oil lines, shutting off Europe's supply and forcing it to turn to the United States for help. That might mean rationing here.

One thing is certain: the French and British have done terrible damage to the efforts of the West to woo the Asians and Africans and make Russia look like the only big power to be feared.

ent cotton nor iodine should be applied continuously with large quantities of water. This applies to the eyes as well as the skin.

Chemical burns are best treated by washing the area immediately

For several weeks the postman has been crowding our box with fat Christmas catalogs, advertisements for Christmas cards and other such reminders that the Christmas "season" is about to begin.

Every year the Christmas "season" starts earlier. It has already moved ahead to the point that Thanksgiving comes smack-dab in the middle of the Christmas rush.

But I refuse to get excited or to start worrying about my Christmas list while I am still watering the lawn, roses are in bloom, and I haven't yet frayed the neighborhood smell fry their trick-or-treat robes.

It is my old-fashioned notion that instead of lengthening the Christmas season any more we ought to admit that we've already stretched it to the breaking point. Then we should start telescoping it back toward the two or three weeks it used to occupy in our lives.

Christmas is a wonderful season.

Foreign Policy Vulnerable--

Yet Delayed Action Seems In Administration's Favor

By JOSEPH A. DEAR
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON.—There is nothing that is more baffling or frustrating for the liberals of the Stevenson entourage than the issue of foreign policy.

This is the issue the Democratic candidate prefers to talk up. But he makes no headway, unless the embarrassing plug from Bulgaria is counted.

At first glance it would seem that the Eisenhower Administration is peculiarly vulnerable on this front: Ike settled for less than total victory in Korea. The Reds gobbled up half Indo-China after he was in office. Nowhere has the Iron Curtain been rolled back by the United States and those ringing phrases about "liberation" sound hollow now. The dramatic unleashing of Chiang Kai Shek accomplished nothing. Extended haggling hasn't produced an arms control program. Allies grumble more about our important air bases overseas. American airmen still languish in Chicom prison camps.

That's the way it looks to Stevenson liberals. And to them it is incomprehensible that their hero can't parlay the Administration's record of non-accomplishment into a win.

Ike, according to this litany, hasn't even put forth a new idea. He wasn't alert to the main chance when Stalin died. And Secretary Dulles, of course, has been nothing less than a disaster.

The facts, such as they are, on which the Democrats rest their case, are facts indeed. But the reading of them may be wrong. The Administration has vacillated, stalled, or flip-flopped. But in retrospect, this undignified and uninspiring behavior may have served our interests best.

Getting busy at the wrong time can be damaging. And it can be argued that the last four years were years that favored nonaggressive action, that a do-nothing policy was the best policy.

What main chance did Ike miss at Stalin's death? Anything more than was done might well have reacted against us.

There was never a prayer for rolling back the Iron Curtain. Ike was right to forget such nonsense. The fruits of inaction on our part are now blooming in Poland, Hungary, and the other captive nations. Any positive action on our part almost certainly would have delayed the partial revolt against Russian domination.

As for reaching any firm agreement on controlling atomic and thermonuclear weapons, this was

For many of us it's the best of the year.

But it loses some of its warmth and some of its feel of a very special season by being dragged out too long.

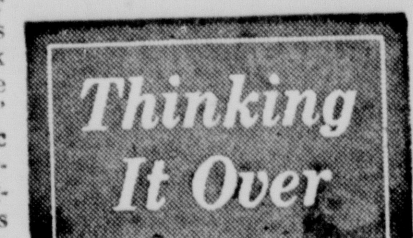

Christmas presents shouldn't be bought so far ahead that a month before Christmas you are worrying about what you bought Cousin Kate—instead of what to buy her.

Christmas decorations shouldn't be up so long they look bedraggled by the time the great day arrives.

THE YOUNG MAN walked over to his station wagon which was parked at about Ninth and Limit, got in, started his engine and drove north on Highway 65. There was a terrible noise coming from under the hood of his car and, as he drove, it continued to get worse. By the time he reached Highway 50, he felt he had better investigate — there was certainly something awfully wrong with his car. He drove over to the side where he could park, got out and raised the hood up to see what was the matter, but he found out sooner than he thought. The minute the hood went up, out jumped the noise. It was an old gray cat, and how it got in there he will never know.—H.L.

an impossibility because of Russia's conception of what was involved. A climate more favorable for productive negotiations is nearing. The disposition for working out a control program should grow as it becomes more obvious that every nation would benefit thereby.

It could be that Ike did right by doing what came naturally. That assumes, of course, that nothing was the right policy. Yet Ike, the soldier, showed himself capable of making tough decisions. Fairness compels the rejection of an unflattering portrait.

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

The light bulb burned out from long use or too much abuse. Possibly it was not made of material to stand the wear and tear to which we put it. It could be that we had a fluctuating voltage. So many factors are involved that we cannot be sure of the cause.

In any case the bulb will not respond to the turn of the switch as it did for many months. There is nothing to do but replace it with a new one which is functional.

We can easily remove the ineffective object. It is inanimate. It has no feeling, no life, no personality. The bulb was only glass and metal—an object with only one purpose.

When people become ineffective, the task of replacement is more difficult. We cannot take human beings from their niche in life and toss them aside. We cannot buy folk at the corner store. We do not trade them over the counter. They are not inanimate.

Dealing with one person affects many more people. One person dropped by the wayside changes the lives of families, friends, neighbors and people thousands of miles away.

As we treat people we must remember that we are not influencing a commodity, but the lives and souls of scores of others. All these people are part of God's living pattern.

Boy's Spunk Brings Air Force Unit

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A new air force "unit" is in operation today because a little boy kept trying to walk.

As a result, Jimmy Mason's many spills no longer raise bumps on his head — had others in his school class are just about the happiest jet "pilots" anywhere.

Polio left Jimmy, 7, crippled in both legs and with partial use of only one arm. It didn't rob him of his spunk.

A few weeks ago Jimmy tugged at his braces and began trying to walk. After several attempts, he managed to take a few steps at a time. But he always wound up by falling.

Jimmy was unable to raise his arms to protect himself, and each fall raised a new bump or marked him with a new cut.

Still, he kept trying. The other day his school teacher at Samuel Gompers Memorial Clinic, Ted Hollingsworth, decided to equip Jimmy with a football helmet and face guard.

The rig protected Jimmy against head injuries, but, says Hollingsworth, it also "made him feel different" from the seven other crippled children in his class.

Jimmy began wearing the helmet with pride, but another problem popped up. Hollingsworth detected a trace of envy on the part of the other pupils.

The teacher turned to nearby Luke Air Force Base for help and the air force came on the run.

Capt. Hugh M. Matheson of Los Angeles, and fellow officers of Luke's 3600th combat crew training group landed a helicopter on a playground at the clinic.

The airmen brought helmets for the seven other pupils, a collection of model planes and certificates activating the class as the "Jet Pilot Squadron."

Matheson admitted he was "a pushover from the start" of the project. "You see," he said, "when I was a kid, a collapsed spine put me in a crippled children's hospital for a year. I guess I understand."

Enliven chicken salad with seedless grapes, salted almonds, water chestnuts or diced cucumber.

Smithton 4-H Elects Officers, Plan Social

The Smithton 4-H Club met at the school. The following officers were elected: Carol Griffith, president; Carol Jean Kahrs, vice-president; Willa Ann Sawford, secretary; Sandra Baecker, treasurer; Betty Monsees and Sandra Monberg, song leaders; Jim Sawford, Billy Goodwin, game leaders; Marvin Maloney, reporter; Mary Kahrs, Carol Griffith, council members; Mrs. Albert Moore, community leader, Mrs. J. L. Verts, assistant.

A hayride and wiener roast was planned for Nov. 8.

Each member drew a month to serve refreshments. New members were, Judy Moore, Diana Baloker, Beverly Keck, Mary Lamm, Kaye Griffith, Carolyn Griffith, Stanley Sawford and David Smith. There were 15 members, two visitors and two leaders present also.

The next meeting will be Nov. 12 at the Smithton School when new officers will be installed.

Majorettes Give Baton Twirling Lessons

The five majorettes, Joyce Williams, Donna Templeton, Margaret Pottorff, Sharon Landis and Rosalee Alexander of the Green Ridge schools are teaching baton twirling to the grade school children and junior high.

The Green Ridge seniors have chosen their school play, "Boarding House Ranch," which will be presented Dec. 1 at the school auditorium.

The PTA cleared $32 on the refreshments they served at the Democrat rally, Oct. 19.

The officers of the FFA chapter, Fred Zeiger, Donnie Pottorff, Curtis Lacey, Larry Gorrell, Gordon Fiedler, Donnie Williams, Donnie Benware and Virgil Kurtz, accompanied by their instructor, G. W. Hamby and Supt. Oglevie attended the annual FFA convention in Kansas City on Oct. 16.
